LOWELL MASS. FRIDAY FEBRUARY 19 1909

PRICE ONE CENT

AN AGED FATHER WAS FINED $150

Makes an Appeal For Son in For Receiving Stolen Property From Young Girl

There were eight drunken offenders in police court this morning and the session of the court was over in about an hour.

John McCullum, a young man who has been before the court on various occasions, was in the dock this morning. His aged father, pleaded with Judge Bradley to give him a chance to get the boy out of town and said that the boy would never appear in court again. Mr. McCullum said he would send the boy to Prince Edward Island. The court agreed to give the young man a chance, but decided to sentence him to one month in jail. Just as soon as the father is ready to send him northward, however, the boy will be taken from the jail. Mr. McCullum said he would rather have the court impose a fine and he would come up in court the necessary money, but Judge Bradley decided that it would be better to keep the young man in jail until he is ready to take his trip out of this country.

It was Daniel J. Murphy's third offense, and he looked as though he was about to get a term at the jail, but Judge Bradley learned that a wife and three children were dependent upon him. The case was continued till Feb. 23 at which time Murphy will be turned over to Probation Officer Slattery.

James Highland, James J. Kennedy, John Reynolds and Thomas P. McGovern, second offenders, were each fined $5.

One first offender was fined $2 and a simple drunk was released.

NASHUA GUESTS COUNT APPEALS

Entertained by K. of C. From the Decision of the Court

About 100 members of Nashua court, Knights of Columbus, were the guests of Lowell court at the K. of C. apartments in Associate building last evening and over 200 members of the local court were present to receive them. Whist, cards and forty-fives were enjoyed in the card rooms, while billiards and pool were also indulged in. In the gymnasium, the new gymnasium that was formally christened with a show of wrestling, the participants being Austin Calvey vs. Joe Rogers; Joe Ballou vs. William Gallagher; Phil Brown vs. Michael J. Dowd; Michael Mullane vs. Bowers Hart; Lawrence Cummings, success to "Old Sport" was the official timekeeper. In the main hall the following concert program, under the direction of Lecturer Frank Groves, was thoroughly enjoyed: Solo, Daniel J. O'Brien, Joseph Pacey, Wm. H. Ready, Peter A. Clancy, readings, Wm. B. Thornton; solo, John McWalters, Nashua; N. H. piano solo, Mr. Dowd, Nashua; N. H. Lanchester was served during the evening and the festivities were kept moving until midnight. The visitors returned to Nashua on the theatre train.

LAWYER STEVENS

QUIZZED HIMSELF ON THE WITNESS STAND

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—Ernest G. Stevens, a lawyer, in Justice Lehman's part of the supreme court, yesterday examined himself as a witness for himself, answered questions propounded by himself to himself, and even objected to questions put to himself by counsel for the defendants, who are themselves lawyers. Stevens is suing Edwin R. Smith, Melvin Bacon and Stephen G. Clarke for $10,000, which the plaintiff alleges is due him for services. He mentioned dealings with a Charles Currie.

"On what day did you see Mr. Currie?" asked Lawyer Stevens of himself.

"I don't recall the exact date," was the reply.

"Have you any memorandum?" asked Lawyer Stevens.

"I have," replied Witness Stevens. "Will you kindly produce the same?"

"Yes, with pleasure. And he took a paper from his pocket.

"Are these the memoranda?"

"Yes," answered Witness Stevens.

"Thank you," responded Lawyer Stevens.

"Now, as you refresh your memory as to the date that you saw Mr. Currie?"

"I can't," replied the witness, "it was July 10, 1902."

ARCHBISHOP'S BAN

PLACES IT ON IMMORAL PLAYS

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 19.—In his Lenten pastoral, just issued to the clergy of the archdiocese of Philadelphia, Archbishop Ridenour condemns erotic and immoral plays. He asks the pastors to denounce such performances, and warns the faithful to keep away from them.

"There is no more sad or certain evidence of the degeneracy of our times," he says, "than the increasing love of the people, and, unfortunately, some Catholics among them, for these dangerous exhibitions."

A Revival

Is a Good Thing

Not only in churches, but also where ever there should be greater activity, stomachs that won't eat slowly that food comes and prompts in them, producing acid and causing much discomfort, need revival, and Dyspepsia are the machine to take—they act quickly and effectively. Try them.

JEROME'S EX-VALET ON WITNESS STAND

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—Arthur J. Kiosow, who says he was the agent between Carl Fischer-Hansen and Antonio Macaluso, in the former's attempts to have the latter give false testimony in his favor, was on the witness stand all of yesterday, testifying against the "philanthropist-lawyer," who is on trial for bribery.

"Only my love for my wife and child brought me back to New York to tell all this rotten business," he said. "I stood in the former's jail at Jersey City, thinking about throwing myself over, when I decided to come back and be branded as a crook rather than having my family alone."

AN INCUBATOR

CONTRIVANCE PRESSED INTO SERVICE TO SAVE BABY

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 19.—Raised in an incubator, which resulted in its weight being increased from 2-1/2 pounds to 12 pounds in ten months, little Margaret Lee, known as the "chicken incubator baby," will be returned to her parents in Mankato, Minn., from Minneapolis in a short time.

The baby's fight for life is humorous as well as pathetic. Coming into the world not much larger than a hard-boiled egg, the infant, who was born April 15, 1908, the midst of a hard winter, was hurried to Minneapolis to be placed in an incubator.

But misfortune followed the infant. In all Minnesota not a baby incubator was to be obtained, so a chicken incubator was brought from a local hatchery. Margaret was placed on the inside, the lamp lighted and all went well.

Two months later the baby was taken out and treated much like other babies are. Now Margaret is quite a big infant, and will shortly be sent to her mother, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. E. Lee of Mankato.

THE MAYOR

REVOKES LICENSES OF MOVING PICTURE HALLS

FALL RIVER, Feb. 19.—As the result of the hearing given yesterday on objections filed by Rev. James E. Cassidy, rector of St. Mary's cathedral and chairman of the Fall River diocese, Mayor Coughlin announced today that he had revoked the licenses of all the moving picture halls in the city.

GARFIELD WILL RECOVER

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Feb. 19.—After officials of the city had pleaded in her behalf for nearly an hour, 19-year-old Ruth J. Wells, who was charged with stealing hundreds of pieces of statuary from a local manufacturing jewelry concern, was placed on probation today by Judge Christopher Lee in the sixth district court.

"I believe that this girl has suffered as much as it is possible for anybody to suffer by the uncovering of this crime," said Henry C. Cram, assistant city solicitor. Pleas were also made by Miss Margaret Demme, the probation officer, as well as by counsel retained in the girl's behalf.

Albert Bowerman, who it is alleged received the stolen stones, was found guilty and fined $150 and costs. He also was concerned in the robbery, but his case discontinued and was allowed to be released upon payment of the costs.

FUNERALS

PERRY—The remains of the late Mrs. Jennie Perry, who died suddenly early Monday morning, were consigned to their final resting place yesterday afternoon.

The funeral took place from her home on Wilson street, North Billerica, and proceeded to the Baptist church where services were held. Rev. Chester H. Howe officiating.

The church was filled to the doors with relatives and friends of the deceased. There was singing by a quartet composed of Mrs. W. H. Popin, Mrs. F. L. Roberts, Messrs. Hopkins and Arnold. Miss Ella M. Reilly presided at the organ. A touching eulogy on the life of the deceased was delivered by Rev. Mr. Howe.

DEATHS

MARSHALL—Mrs. Georgina B. Marshall died at the home of her son, William S. Marshall, 554 Fletcher street, last Tuesday after a painful illness that extended over a period of several weeks, death coming suddenly at last, and without attendant pain.

Mrs. Marshall was the widow of the late Joshua N. Marshall, who was one of Lowell's most prominent lawyers. She was one of those gentle, sweet characters whom to know was to love, quiet and retiring in her disposition, her husband found in her nature, the shelter needed in his active life, and in this same spirit she shared her life with others with whom she came in daily contact, and the same grace and sweetness characterized her life throughout, making it always a charm and blessing.

Mrs. Marshall was a constant and earnest member of the Kirk Street Congregational church, which she joined with her husband in 1872.

GREENWOOD—Muller. Greenwood died yesterday at the Lowell general hospital. The body was removed to his home, 86 South Whipple street. He leaves two sons and one daughter.

KIBBON—Mrs. Susan P. Kibbon, widow of the late Henry C. Kibbon, formerly of Lowell, died at her home in Danvers, Mass., Tuesday, Feb. 16, aged 55 years, 6 months and 15 days.

MCDOWELL—Mrs. Wilhelmina McDowell died Wednesday night at the home of her daughter, 26 Marshall street. Her age was 64 years. She was born in Pittsburg, Pa.

LAZARUS—Stavros Lazarus, aged 23 years, died today at the Lowell General Hospital. The remains were taken to the chapel of Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

WELCH—The funeral of the late Mrs. Margaret Welch took place this morning at 9 o'clock from the home, 110 Concord street, and was largely attended by sorrowing friends and relatives. The cortege proceeded to the immaculate Conception church, where at 9:30 a solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated. Rev. Mr. McElroy, O. M. L., deacon, and Rev. Mr. Flynn, O. M. L., sub-deacon. The choir under the direction of Mrs. Walker sang the Georgian mass and as the remains were borne from the church the choir sang "De Profundis." Mr. Joseph McCaffrey sustained the solos, and Mrs. Walker presiding at the organ. Among the many beautiful floral tributes were a mammoth wreath on base from the Massachusetts willis; palms, Miss Mary McQuade; spray, O. S. Sarkis, large wreath from the family. The bearers were Patrick Clark, Michael Cogger, Anthony McCarron, Patrick Cogger, the grave bearers, Mr. McElroy, O. M. L., read the committal prayers, and the burial was in the Catholic cemetery in charge of Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

CASSIDY—The funeral of the late Patrick Cassidy took place this morning at 8 o'clock from his home, 11 B street, and was largely attended by sorrowing friends and relatives. The funeral cortege proceeded to St. Peter's church where at 9:25 solemn high mass of requiem was sung by Rev. Mr. McElroy with Rev. Mr. Heffernan deacon and Rev. Mr. Burns sub-deacon. The choir under the direction of Prof. P. P. Haggerty sang the Georgian mass, and James E. Donnelly rendered the solos. Mrs. J. W. McKennedy presided at the organ. The bearers were Michael Mahan of Watertown, Mass., Michael Cassidy, Thomas Flinnery of Hudson, Mass., Thomas Flinnery of Providence, R. I., Richard Lough of Lowell, Mass., and Frank Currier. At the grave Rev. Mr. Mullin read the committal prayers. The burial was in the Catholic cemetery in charge of Undertaker Thos. A. Saunders. AT ST. MICHAEL'S

Washington's Birthday Exercises Held Today

Patriotic exercises in honor of Washington's birthday were held at St. Michael's parochial school today. Each of the several grades had a patriotic program of its own and all the class rooms were decorated with the national colors and pictures of George Washington. During the exercises Rev. John J. Shaw, pastor of St. Michael's, visited the different class rooms and addressed the children on the life and character of Washington. The program included the singing of "America," the "Star Spangled Banner" and other patriotic hymns, the salute to the flag and selections from Washington's addresses and the reading of the Declaration of Independence.

THE TAX RATE

An Increase in It is Looked for at City Hall

It looks now as if Lowell's tax rate was due for another jump. The tax rate for 1909 will be greater than for 1908 unless things happen that are hardly possible but not probable.

The appropriations today signed by Mayor Brown call for $11,000 more than was originally appropriated last year, and that $11,000 extra means an increase in the tax rate of 14 cents per thousand.

It may be that the state and county tax will be lower this year than last, and that might help some. It would require $200,000 worth of new property to offset the increase for which the current year's appropriations are responsible.

The school department has been allowed more money this year and it that department does not come back for more money, as was the case last year, there will be a chance for a cut in the 14 cents increase. There is no way of knowing at the present time, however, that the school and other departments will not come back for more money.

The school department asked for $250,000 this year and $275,000 was allowed. Last year $250,000 was asked for and $257,000 was allowed with the result that the department came back for more.

==To the Men of Lowell==

I wish to thank you for the whole-souled, wildly enthusiastic reception accorded me in Lowell at my opening last Saturday.

In a lifetime of merchant trafficking, embracing the experience of opening and maintaining 15 different tailoring stores, it has been my pleasure to receive many hearty welcome-to-our-cities from the people of New England.

But my hat is off to Lowell. I can at this time but acknowledge my appreciation and promise you one and all that I shall endeavor to the utmost of my ability to justify that confidence which you so generously showered upon me Saturday.

To the men who in the wildfire rush could not receive the attention they ought to get I offer apology. You saw the conditions. But as I am going to stay in Lowell for keeps from today on, we shall have better opportunity to get acquainted.

Within ten miles of the city of Lowell are situated the greatest woolen mills of this country—the birthplace and lifelong home of woolens and weaves recognized throughout the world as "American Classics."

I opened a new store in Lowell Saturday and as a starter I directed my announcement to the operatives of these great woolen mills—the men who spend their lifetime making woolens—men who, if anybody knows, ought to know woolens.

My reception will always be historic in the annals of Lowell. These weavers came to me, with their knowledge of woolens and values, with their doubts, their misgivings and their skepticism. They saw—they gave me their orders and went home—like Chapman converts.

From the scouring rooms, the dye rooms, the finishing rooms—from loom, from office, they came singly, in pairs and in crowds, and all who could be waited on left orders.

My success in Boston and in out-of-town stores has been gratifying in the extreme. That each succeeding store surpasses the older success, however, is more gratifying—it proves that the "good news travels."

The finest line of woolens in the United States. Blue Serges, Worsteds and Cheviots—suits or overcoats—made to your order with Mitchell concave shoulders including an extra pair of pants, absolutely free for this week only . . . $12

SENATOR SHAW

Wants Direct Nomination of U. S. Senators

BOSTON, Feb. 19.—There is some interest at the state house over the date of the hearing on Senator Shaw's bill relative to direct nomination of U. S. senators. In the bulletin of committee hearings published a few days ago the matter was scheduled for hearing Feb. 24. Senator Shaw says that before this assignment was made he had requested Senator Rockwood, chairman of the committee, not to put the bill down for hearing till some time in March, as he would have to be absent more or less this month.

As soon as the bulletin appeared with the Feb. 24 assignment Senator Shaw wrote the senate head of the committee asking if the hearing could be postponed till some time after the inauguration of President Taft, which he intended to attend. Yesterday the Essex man received a letter to the effect that the committee would hear him this morning, or if he chose to appear on the matter in executive session, the committee would hear him any time up to March 16.

Senator Shaw is not satisfied and the situation is causing some comment, especially because of the nature of the subject matter of his bill.

ANNUAL SOCIAL OF THE UNITED STATES BUNTING CO. EMPLOYEES

The United States Bunting Co. employees held their third annual social and dance last night in Associate hall. The hall was decorated in orange, and presented a pretty appearance. Music for dancing was furnished by the Calumet orchestra.

General manager, John Gleason; assistant general manager, James Sullivan; floor director, Harry Delaney; assistant floor director, Sidney Heathcote; chief aid, John Nolan.

Lustrous Hair

IT COMES ONLY TO THOSE WHO USE A PERFECT DRESSING

Have you seen a pretty face with regular features, clear skin, pearly teeth and plenty of animation and vivacity, and yet remarked that there was something lacking that really made the individual less charming than his sister of plainer possessions? A scientific study of such a face will show you clearly that it is a want of luxuriant hair which makes the difference.

The Girl with the Auburn Hair is in every package.

The woman who wishes to retain her youth must look after her hair. Parisian Sage is a hair dressing which is never admitted. Society women realize the truth of this statement and that is why so many of New York's loveliest women demand that Parisian Sage be used by their hair-dressers. It is guaranteed by Carter & Sherburne, the agents in Lowell, to cure dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks or money back.

It will make any woman's harsh and unattractive hair soft, lustrous and luxuriant in a few days. It is the ideal, delightful, rejuvenating tonic that makes hair grow; it is not sticky or greasy, but on the other hand is most pleasant and daintily perfumed, and only 30 cents a bottle. Write to Carter & Sherburne, direct. All charges prepaid by the American Makers, Groux Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

BOY WAS KILLED

As Result of Dispute With a Companion

WATERTOWN, Feb. 19.—A school-boy dispute between two pupils of the Marshall Spring school yesterday resulted in the death of Frank Crossland, aged 14, son of Mrs. Mrs. Crossland, of 38 Summer street.

His alleged assailant, John Scanlon, aged 14, was taken into custody later by Patrolman John F. Millmore when the Scanlon lad called at the home of William O'Brien, 17 Waverly avenue. Here they exchanged blows for a couple of minutes. Scanlon dealt Crossland a blow which landed under the heart.

The Crossland lad dropped to the ground. Young Scanlon became frightened then and tried to raise his schoolmate up, but young Crossland was unconscious.

Scanlon then ran to his home, 78 North Beacon street, and told his mother that he had hit a boy and thought that he had hurt him. His mother told him to eat his dinner and go back and see how badly the boy had been injured.

The Scanlon lad was so excited that he could not sleep, and he left the house saying that he was going back to see how Crossland was getting along. Upon his arrival at the O'Brien house he was detained by the police.

Scanlon told the same story at the police station that he told his mother. William O'Brien, an eyewitness to the affair, said that he was sitting at his window when the boys were coming from school. He noticed that a couple of the lads were in a heated argument. Just as they reached his house he says they got at it in real earnest. Each lad struck two or three blows and bones appeared even when he saw one sink to the ground.

When the lad did not arise immediately he says he thought that the boy must have been badly hurt. Pulling on a pair of rubbers over his slippers, O'Brien ran into the street where the lad was lying.

When he reached the boy he was just gasping. He opened his shirt and then carried him into his house, sent a boy to inform Principal C. W. Walters and another boy for a physician. Dr. Maloney, the town physician, answered the call and pronounced young Crossland beyond human aid.

When the lad was taken to the hospital, he was found to have a fractured skull and internal injuries.

The third in a series of lectures by John Whitehead, A. M., of Boston, on "Psychical Phenomena, or Proofs of Life After Death," was given at Middlesex hall last night. The subject last night was "Christian and Ancient Beliefs on the Resurrection and the Life After Death."

After asserting the proposition that modern psychological research proves the psychical phenomena of the Bible to be facts, the speaker said that in the Christian church it was the belief from the beginning, that man in some way rose with his natural or material body from the grave. But about the third century, when they began to put forward credal explanations, they also formulated the theory that life after death is by the resurrection of the material body. They did not base their doctrine of the resurrection on the psychical phenomena that are mentioned in the Bible, but on certain passages that are foretelling, some time in the distant future, the second coming of the Lord. The idea of the body after death staying in the grave for untold generations, and then, at the resurrection, the various parts that have been scattered, flying through space and collecting together, each man his own, is in itself too ridiculous to have any weight, today. It originated because men could not understand how there could be any existence, except the material existence. They could not conceive of the existence of a spiritual world, and the continuation of life on a higher plane than this. It is a part of the materialistic state of mind which even now exists to a certain extent. But the materialist of today, unable to accept the old theory of the resurrection of the material body, formulates the idea that there is no life after death.

Another idea widely prevalent among Christians, is that the dead person has risen again, and has gone to heaven. Christians universally have had a double idea of the resurrection, and the life after death. But the idea of the resurrection obscured the other idea. Modern science has restored the belief in what it destroyed, namely, the existence of a body after death.

He then took up the beliefs of the ancient Egyptians, making interesting comparisons between them and the Christian beliefs. The story of "the god on the top of the ladder," he said, "has the same spiritual significance as the story of the ladder of Jacob." He read extracts from "The Book of the Dead" with reference to "the spiritual body" and illustrated the belief of the ancient Egyptians by means of a white or "spiritual" body represented in a drawing, and the dark, material body, sloughed off. The Egyptians, he said, referred to this as the "double," meaning the material and the spiritual body. These beliefs of ancient Egypt have spread into other countries, and become the basis of many more modern theories of the life after death; but there have been many gross misconceptions, owing to a misunderstanding of the ancient symbolism of the Egyptians.

LOCAL DRUGGISTS ENTERTAINED
Charles E. Carter, Frank D. Goodale, William C. Peterson, Edward Billingwood and Pierre N. Brimble, the local druggists, were well entertained by the druggists of Manchester Wednesday night at the Riverside Inn, Hocksett, N. H.

The occasion was the annual reunion of the druggists and employees in the Manchester store, some 150 of them coming to Hocksett in special electric. Dinner was served at 8 o'clock. After that, there was speech-making.

BLED TO DEATH

Well Known Hunter
Victim of Accident

CENTER OSSIPEE, N. H., Feb. 12.—His snow shoes tripping on the railroad tracks at Ossipee station as he was returning from a fox hunt late yesterday, I. DeWitt Carter, a well known hunter and guide of the North Country, accidentally discharged his shot gun, receiving the charge in his right leg, which severed an artery and caused him to bleed to death before help could reach him.

Section men on the railroad saw the accident and hastened to the hunter's side. The man was dead when they reached him, although it was scarcely two minutes later.

Carter occupied the unique position of hunter, guide, and justice, and hunter he claimed to have killed more bears than any other man in New Hampshire.

He was born in this town 67 years ago. He is survived by one brother.

TEWKSBURY CLUB

Addressed by Probation Officer Ramsay

The Twentieth Century Club of Tewksbury held its regular meeting Wednesday evening and was addressed by James P. Ramsay, probation officer for Middlesex county. His subject was "Criminal Cases of the Past and Present." He said in part:

"All the nations have formerly regarded imprisonment, torture and death as the only way of securing public peace and quiet. The chamber of torture was closely connected with justice. In the early times, in England, there were over 200 offences punishable by death, and as a result, the government committed more crimes than it prevented. The prisoners were a time hell above ground, the rack and the branding iron were in common use, and the hangman had a steady job. In 1810 steps were taken to abolish the practice of capital punishment for stealing, and from this time the mode of punishment began to undergo many distinct changes.

"In New England such instruments as the ducking stool, the whipping-post and the pillory, and such punishments as hanging off a man's ears, whipping, and tickling a red hot iron through a man's tongue, were used. Punishments were executed on persons for sleeping in church, and even for wearing too handsome an attire.

Today the whole penal code has changed. The works of iniquity are not in a class by themselves, they are merely those who have been found out. They are found out by means of the press, the camera, fingerprints, and other modern methods. The number of arrests has increased, but this increase as compared with that of the population has been as 18 per cent. to 20 per cent. This year 26,599 people were sentenced, which is 2054 less than the number of people sentenced 10 years ago, and the probation system is the cause.

"The object of this system is to ascertain whether the convicted one may reform without punishment. The jails of Massachusetts were all filled up, and a new Fall River jail was being constructed when the probation system was first taken up. There were 12103 on probation in the state last year, and the Fall River jail has never been used.

"The probation officer investigates every case coming before the court. He finds out the whole story of the person's life, and offers to plead for him if he wishes it. Many of the convicts have no friends nor any money, and so can get neither bail nor counsel. When a man is taken on probation, the probation officer tries to find him a home; often clothes, and chiefly work. This system is much more effective than the old one of sending the prisoner to a reformatory and then back to his old environs."

Here Mr. Ramsay read some of the monthly letters which he receives from his charges. He also told of one boy who finally chose serving his year in jail in preference to going to work. Then he read a letter from the "worst man" in states prison which showed the appreciation the prisoners feel for the work of those who visit and sing to them. Mr. Ramsay said in closing:

"Great Britain and all the progress."

Removes Edward G. Graves From Office

BOSTON, Feb. 19.—Edward G. Graves, president of the republican city committee, was summarily removed from that position in a decision handed down late yesterday by Judge J. B. Richardson of the superior court, who rules his election illegal.

Although not a member of the committee at the time, Mr. Graves was elected to the presidency on Jan. 28, and action was brought against him by Dr. Benjamin F. Campbell and other republicans, seeking an injunction. It is expected the matter will be taken to the supreme court.

Some Things That Make Life Worth While

AS THEY RODE ALONG.

Gills: "I never saw a man who was so fond of entertaining as Henpeck is. It's really remarkable."
Willis: "That's not so strange. You see, his wife is quite pleasant to him when there's company in the house."

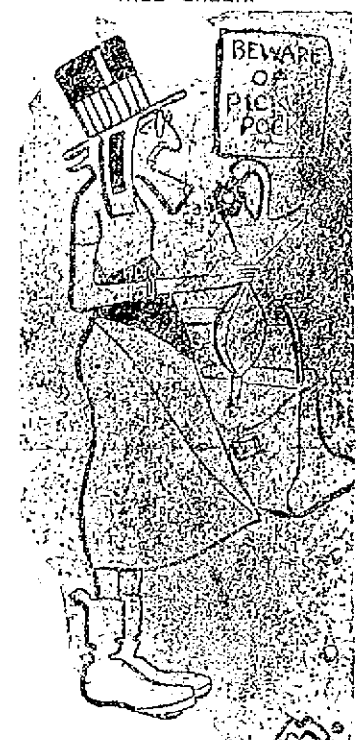

NO IDEAS THERE.

"What do you think of Dumley?"
He's got an idea in his head that—"Ridiculous!"
"Ah! You know about the story?"
"Dumley's upper story, yes. I know there's nothing in it."

HARD LUCK.

One time a young fellow got busy making love to a maiden named Lusy. When he asked for a kiss, though, the petulant miss gave him such a hard slap he was dusy.

"NILE GREEN."

The Worst.
"I hear you were in a street car smashup the other day. That was hard luck!"
"I should say so. I wasn't even shaken up enough to sue for damages."

None For Him.
"So poor Henpeck is dead. I suppose his last words were—"
"Didn't I tell you his wife was at his bedside?"

Cause and Effect.
"Poor Jones is suffering from melancholia."
"Why, I thought he was the editor of a comic paper."
"He is."

Time and Money.
"Time is money, young man."
"That so? Well, I've a bunch of time on hand I'd like you to break into small bills."

A BRIEF TRAGEDY.

The knock of the postman—"It gives you a thrill. You look for a check. And he hands you a bill!"

THE LONG AND SHORT OF IT.

"A man is often judged by the clothing he wears."
"Yes, and—"
"And what?"
"A lady is often judged by the clothing she doesn't wear."

BUT HE WASN'T SORRY.
A mortgage on his heart was held by the loveliest of misses. And he each day was forced to pay the interest in kisses.

Anonymous.

"It's a cool day for me," said the downcast man who had just from bed.

As he was he felt like a ray of sunshine which warms him first. "The sun is out," he muttered, putting himself up as a warm, swinging door invited.

AS THEY DANCED.

"This is a top that's got red. His heart went thump-thump. But that same heart was true, and she accepted at a jump."

NOTHING.
I make the young give gigue; Old men get mad at me. Oh, can't you riddle my riddle? I'm nothing—don't you see?

A True Patriot.

HE was doing some figuring with pencil and paper on the head of a barrel in front of a grocery when the grocer came out and called his attention to some heads of cabbage that had just been left by a farmer. "Yes, them cabbages is all right," replied the man, "but I don't care for any. I was reading last night about a proposed treaty between this country and China. The paper said it would raise the price of washing a shirt to 8 cents, and I made up my mind I was agin it."

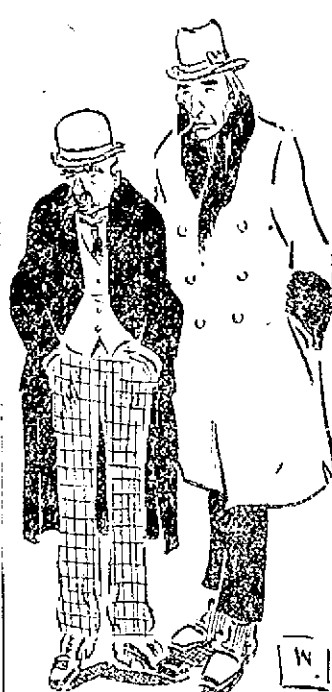

"So you won't favor such a treaty?" was asked.
"Yes, I think I will, since I have figured on it. I find that it would make a difference of only 8 cents a year to me, and if the rest of the country wants it I won't be so doggoned mean as to hang back!"

REASONABLE REQUEST.

The Maid.
"I do not want your kisses, sir, and I will always spurn them."
The Man.
"Then if my kisses you don't want, will you kindly return them?"

GET A MOVE ON.

"All things come round to him who waits."
Oh, nonsense, rubbish, stuff! All things come round to some one else. If we wait long enough.

PROMPT.

Binz—Clarence Pinhead took part in the amateur theatricals the other evening.

Ding—Indeed? Were there any prompters back of the scenes?
Binz—I should say so. Clarence caught sight of his tailor coming through the wings, and it prompted him to jump through the bass drum.

MANLIKE.

"Oh, yes, I hurt my head," said he. "And did you cry?" asked mother. "There wasn't nobody there, so I did not," said little brother.

Shooting For Cigars.

DURING the maneuvers the subject of this shooting frequently crept up at one of the officers' messes.
"I'll bet any one here a box of cigars," said Lieutenant A, "that I can fire twenty shots at 200 yards and tell without waiting for the marker the result of each one correctly."
"Done!" cried Major B. And the whole mess turned out early the next morning to witness the experiment. The lieutenant fired.
"Miss!" he announced calmly.
Another shot.
"Miss!" he repeated.
A third shot.
"Miss!"
"Hold, hold on!" put in Major B. "What are you trying to do? You're not firing for the target!"
"Of course not!" was the cool response. "I'm firing for those cigars!" And he got them.

UP AGAINST IT.

The clock had struck, but no one paid attention to its commands. The works kept running just the same. For it couldn't call off the hands.

INVESTED.

"That invention Brown is preparing to put on the market is a great thing." "I'm beginning to doubt it."
"What! Why, there's plenty of money in it. Don't you believe it?" "Yes. Nearly all of mine is there."

WASTED EFFORT.

Renee: "Yes! I told him I had heard that kisses were much sweeter in the dark, and—"
Maude (interrupting): "And he turned down the gas and got busy, eh?"
Renee: "No, the idiot did nothing of the kind. He just sat there like a stick and said he thought with a girl as pretty as I darkness would detract from the pleasantness of the occasion. Of course that was a pretty compliment, but there are occasions when actions speak louder than words, you know."

KITTY LOST.

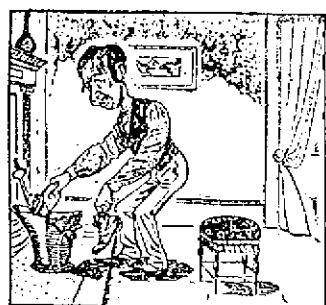

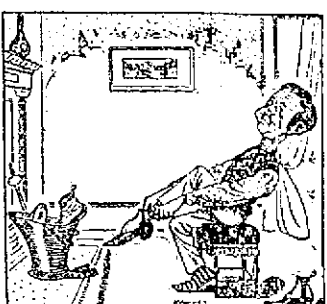

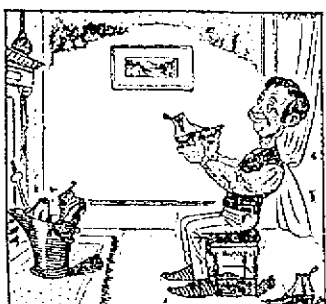

Miss Maybelle McGree, who was fat. By accident sat on the cat.
Said she: "Here, poor Kitty! Dear puss, what a pity! I wonder where she can be at!"

HE WAS IT.

"I'd like to see something left in coats," he said in the clothing store. "All right," said the clerk, moving out the looking glass. "Just put this one on."

OFF WITH THE NEW LOVE, ON WITH THE OLD.

AN EXPERIENCE WE ALL HAVE HAD.

Her Little Joke.
Alice—Don't you think a cookery book is fascinating reading?
Clara—Yes, indeed. It contains so many stirring incidents.

They Caused Themselves.
"I wonder what caused Mrs. Pitt's wrinkles?"
"She must have got them worrying about them."

Another Lapse.
Gracer—When do your folks want that flour sent up?
Mr. Nomenno (looking troubled)—They want it yesterday.

An Impossible "If."
She—"Tis ever woman's lot to suffer in silence."
He—Yes, and if they'd only let us suffer in the same way how happy we'd be.

EVIDENT.
Little Willie—Did you tell your mother you had a good time at my birthday party?
Little Willie—I didn't have to. I was sick for two days.

CLEANLINESS AND GODLINESS.
First Hobo—The parson said as how sinners would be washed white as snow.
Second Hobo—Good! If that's so, we'd better be getting out uv de sinner class.

How He Won a Wife.

SHE looked up at him suddenly after he had waited silently and patiently a long time for her answer. "I suppose," she said, "that a man pays a compliment to a woman by proposing to her, no matter what the circumstances surrounding the case may be."
"Yes," he replied, "you might regard it as a compliment—but, Miss Picklingham—Mercedes—darling—it was not to compliment you that I asked you to be my wife. It was—"
"I know, I know," she answered. "I believe you are sincere in your protestations of love for me. Yet I must be on my guard. You must do something to prove that you do not want me for my father's money—that it is your heart and not your brain that is suing for my love."

For a moment he seemed bewildered. He opened his mouth as if to say something, but apparently was unable to think of the words he wished to say. Then suddenly he held out his hands, showing the deep yellow stains of cigarettes upon his fingers.
A glad light came into the maiden's eyes, and, grinning off his hat, she looked into it, seeing that the ring showed the size to be 6 1/2.
"Ah, darling—dearest," she cried, flinging herself into his arms. "Take me, I ask no more. It is—I—your heart that speaks! I see you have no brains."

JUST A CONFESSION.

"Though I am no philanthropist," The swindler said, "it's true I'm always on the lookout for The good things I can do."

EXTRACT FROM A NOVEL.

"Our traveler felt that his companion was beneath him and secretly desired a separation."

Why He Wished to Know.

THE physician looked troubled. "Do you know anything about the Browns?" he asked at last. "What do you want to know?" inquired his wife. "I have met Mrs. Brown a number of times, and she seems to be a very pleasant, well bred woman who—"
"Oh, I don't care anything about that," interrupted the physician quickly. "I was thinking about Mr. Brown's financial condition."
"I think he pays his bills promptly."
"I know he does," exclaimed the physician impatiently. "But he is really a wealthy man, or is he only moderately well off?"
"I don't see what business that is of yours," suggested his wife.
"I want to prescribe for his wife."
"What's the matter with her?"
"Nothing. That's just the trouble. She complains of a feeling of lassitude and all that, and I must humor her or lose all the business of the family."
"I don't just see—"
"Oh, of course you don't. You've been a doctor's wife for ten years, and you don't know anything about the business yet."
"But what effect can his wealth have upon your prescriptions?"
"Why, the whole thing depends upon that in a case like this. If I have no idea how much he is worth, how am I to know whether to advise a trip to Europe or a little exercise?"

OUT OF THE QUESTION.

"As pretty as a picture," the By all her friends is known. And yet, of course, she could not be as pretty as her own.

A FEW REMOVED.

The dictionary's full of words. The fact removes a doubt. I dreamed last night that congress folk had worn them wholly out.

NO DECEPTION.

Man calls his wife his "better half." But that's a sort of bluff. He can't deceive himself, for she's the whole thing, sure enough.

TROUBLE COMING.

"Dearest, did you mail those letters for me today?"

ALL HEALTH FOR INSTANT.
Don't be fooled by any of these things that are sold as health. Are the doctors who sell them?

His Preference.

"Y" on the menu card, "I'm not a vegetarian," said the man. "I'm a meat eater, but I don't eat meat." "What's the matter with you?" asked the waiter. "I'm a meat eater, but I don't eat meat."

HIS LAST WORDS.

A man who was very rich. When he was very old, he said, "I'm a rich man, but I don't have any money."

Investigating Plot to Kill Count Witte

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 18.—The police of this city today seized a mysterious automobile that frequently of late has been seen in the streets of this city. An examination showed it to contain a complete equipment for printing revolutionary literature. Six men connected with the plot were taken into custody. The preliminary investigation into the case of M. Lupokine, a former director of police, who was arrested in this city last January on the technical charge that he was a member of the revolutionary organization, came to an end. The prosecutor determined that there was ample incriminating evidence against Lupokine to justify his indictment for membership

SENSATIONAL REPORT

Of Plan to Dethrone the Emperor of Russia

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 18.—A sensational story of a reactionary plot to dethrone Emperor Nicholas and proclaim a regency in Russia is being repeated in St. Petersburg today in connection with the recent death of Grand Duke Vladimir Alexandrovich, the emperor's eldest uncle. According to a high official of the St. Petersburg police, the affair was uncovered in connection with the revolutions concerning the Azet and Lupokine cases. While investigating the relations between the Azet and the reactionary organizations, the prosecuting department of the government found indications that the organization dissatisfied with the present moderate policy of the government desired to substitute a strong-handed reactionary regime and had formed a plan to establish a regency under Grand Duke Vladimir. How far the grand duke was cognizant with this scheme is not set forth but the official in question said today that a search of the documents in Vladimir's papers was about to be undertaken when the grand duke suddenly died. This put an end to the project.

DRACUT

The republican caucus was held in Grange hall at the Centre last night and the voters of the town turned out in large numbers to ballot for their choice of officers who are to contest against the democrats at the town meeting to be held on March first. There were several important contests on, but the real contest was for selectman. There were seven candidates with three nominations to be made. Those nominated are Walter F. Garland with 112, Herbert C. Jones with 110 and Fred A. Bassett who has been a member of the board of selectmen for two years, who was third with 98 votes, winning over his nearest competitor, Fred E. Pollard by a margin of 10 votes, Pollard getting 88.

Elliot Morgan, Elmer E. Porter and Frank J. Davis, the three other candidates, received 96, 54 and 42 respectively.

Jesse Colburn was almost a 3 to 1 favorite over Jackson T. Crawford for town clerk, the former getting 152 to 51 for Crawford.

Chester B. Colburn easily won the nomination for town warden, receiving 21 votes while William E. Emerson got 20 and Herman G. Gaudier tallied 18.

Nelson E. Huntley, Edward F. Donnell and Corinna M. Smith were the nominees for school committee.

The nominations for the unopposed offices were as follows:

Town clerk, Silas R. Colburn; town treasurer, Daniel D. Fox; assessor for three years, Albert Smith; constable and collector of taxes, Arthur W. Colburn; auditor, Constant F. Bell; trustees of the public library, Stephen E. Kitchen, Rose E. Peabody, constable commissioner for three years, Albert Huntley; cemetery commissioner for one year, John T. Deady.

The caucus was called to order by Herbert Jones, chairman of the republicans, who read the resolutions and presided over the election of permanent chairman.

Nathan E. Parvey was the choice of the meeting for presiding officer and the election of a secretary resulted in the choice of Herman E. Linscott, secretary of the republican town committee.

NIGHT EDITION

SPEAKER CANNON

Took Floor of House for First Time During Session

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Speaker Cannon today for the first time during the present Congress took the floor and answered a suggestion by Mr. Davis (Ill.) that the speaker should name members who persisted in creating confusion in the house.

Mr. Foster (Vermont) speaking on the rules suggested that the removal of desks would effect better order. Mr. Davis made his suggestion and the speaker, standing in front of the rostrum pointed out that Speaker Blaine had refrained from naming a member who was out of order because such action would be resented by the members of the house.

The other case, Mr. Cannon recalled, was in Speaker Crisp's time, when the man named "Crisp's friend" who did not suffer politically or otherwise as a result of "Crisp's" death, would dislike very much to have a speaker do that to him, and wearing a broad smile the speaker left the chamber.

WILL NOT MEET THE FOREIGNERS

Accounts Committee Session Postponed

The committee on accounts will not meet this evening. A meeting was scheduled for tonight and was called for the purpose of taking action on bills that have been hanging from last year, December's bills for 1908. The meeting was called off because it was learned that the bills would not be ready.

Mayor and Secretary

Mayor Brown and his private secretary, Winfred C. MacBrayne, have been invited to speak before the Boston Strangers' association at Young's hotel, Tuesday evening, Feb. 23. Mayor Brown will speak on "Honesty in Politics," as that is the subject assigned to him. Mr. MacBrayne has not had any subject assigned to him. He is a free lance, open for remarks on any old subject.

AN AGED FATHER

Makes an Appeal For Son in Police Court

There were eight drunken offenders in police court this morning and Judge Bradley decided that it would be better to keep the young man in jail until he is ready to take his trip out of this country.

John McCullum, a young man, who has been before the court on various occasions, was in the dock this morning. His wife pleaded with Judge Bradley to give him a chance to get the boy out of town and said that the boy would never appear in court again. Mr. McCullum said he would send the boy to Prince Edward Island. The court agreed to give the young man a chance, but decided to sentence him to one month in jail. Just as soon as the father is ready to send him northward, however, the boy will be taken from the jail. Mr. McCullum said he would rather have the court impose a fine and he would come up with the necessary money, but Judge Bradley decided that it would be better to keep the young man in jail until he is ready to take his trip out of this country.

It was Daniel J. Murphy's third offense, and it looked as though he was slated for a term at the jail, but Judge Bradley learned that a wife and three children were dependent upon him. The case was continued till Feb. 23, at which time Murphy will be turned over to Probation Officer Slattery.

James Highland, James J. Kennedy, John Reynolds and Thomas F. McJannet, second offenders, were each fined $5.

One first offender was fined $2 and a simple drunk was released.

THE TAX RATE

An Increase in It is Looked for at City Hall

It looks now as if Lowell's tax rate for 1909 will be greater than for 1908, unless things happen that are barely possible, but not probable.

The school department has been allowed more money this year and if that department does not come back for more money, as was the case last year, there will be a chance for a cut in the 14 cents increase. There is no way of knowing at the present time, however, that the school and other departments will not come back for more money.

The school department asked for $29,000 this year and $27,000 was allowed. Last year $28,290 was asked for and $27,000 was allowed with the result that the department came back for more.

MAY BE INSANE BOSTON BANKER

Man Threatened to Kill Has Filed Petition in His Family Bankruptcy

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Feb. 19.—After visiting his family, who it is alleged he had before threatened to kill, Edward O'Rourke today filed a petition in bankruptcy with liabilities of $146,083 and assets of $50,380.

One of the largest unsecured creditors is the William Kendrick Co. of Kansas City, Mo., with a claim of $29,575, inability to float certain bond issues and joint liability with another firm of brokers now in bankruptcy are given as the causes of the proceedings.

Mr. O'Rourke was formerly a member of the firm of E. H. Gay & Co., bankers which failed last fall. His liability for a portion of the rent of that company is $17,328.

The amount of secured claims is placed at $54,625 distributed among Massachusetts banks with $15,525 owing to the Italian-American Trust company of New York. The unsecured claims amount to $32,460 distributed among sixty creditors, with the Kendrick company as the largest.

Mr. O'Rourke stated today that he was unable after his retirement from the firm of E. H. Gay & Co. to liquidate certain claims and that with the poor bond market made it necessary to seek relief through the courts.

THE NAVAL BILL

Amendments Laid Before the Senate

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—When the House reply to the Senate amendments to the Naval Appropriation bill was laid before the Senate today, Mr. Hale offered an amendment, it is said, that to part of the public money shall be used for the expenses of any commission unless its creation shall have been authorized by Congress.

Senator Lodge asked whether the amendment had not been rejected on a point of order as not legislative.

Mr. Hale replied that it had been rejected as part of another amendment, that he would not press it at that time.

"I object," called Mr. Lodge.

Senator Hale, Perkins and Tillam were then appointed conferees on the bill on the part of the Senate.

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—With a new trans-Atlantic record, from her sister ship, the Lusitania, the steamer Mauretania came into port today after crossing the ocean over the long route from Daunt's rock to Ambrose channel lightship off Sandy Hook in four days, seventeen hours and six minutes. The best previous record for this passage was four days, sixteen hours and thirty-six minutes, held by the Lusitania.

JOHN G. WOOLEY

DECIDES TO QUIT THE PROHIBITION PARTY

OMAHA, Feb. 19.—After years of affiliation with the prohibition party, John G. Wooley, its candidate for president in 1908, announced yesterday that he was no longer connected with the party, but would work for the cause in one of the old parties. Mr. Wooley is visiting in Iowa. "I believe the party has accomplished all it can do," he said, "and from now on the most effective work can be done on outside lines. The party reached its purpose in bringing the liquor question to a national issue and its usefulness ended there. It has no further necessity for being kept alive."

THE CARPET MILLS

Will Not Run on Washington's Birthday

Fire in an air shaft at the Hamilton mill, Central street side, at about 6 o'clock this morning, caused considerable excitement, but not a great deal of damage. It was extinguished by the fire department of the mill. The local fire department was not summoned.

The Carpet mills will not run on Monday in observance of Washington's birthday. They will close Saturday noon and will remain closed until Tuesday morning. All the other mills will run as usual.

AT SACRED HEART O. M. I. CADETS

Washington's Birthday Intend to Celebrate St. Patrick's Day

Patriotic exercises in honor of Washington's birthday were held at the Sacred Heart parochial school today with an attendance that filled the school hall. A feature of the entertainment was the program on the covers of which were the national emblem of George Washington. Among those present were Rev. W. Smith, O. M. I., pastor, who addressed the pupils on the significance of the approaching holiday, and the clergy connected with the Sacred Heart church. The program was as follows:

Hymn, "Washington," by the School. Salute to the Flag. Tribute to Washington, T. Kennedy. Recitation, "His Birthday," Sixth Grade. Recitation, "The Gen of the Ocean," School. Recitation, "The Month," Fifth Grade. Character of Washington... P. Routine. Flag Drill, boys. Recitation, "The Good Old Days," Second Grade. Song, "The Star We Love," school. Recitation, "Washington's Day," Fourth Grade. Hymn, "Holy God, We Praise Thy Name," School.

BERLIN POLICE

Have Planned to Trap the Rippers

BERLIN, Feb. 19.—There was only one authenticated case of assault upon a woman today. The daughter of a banker while walking with her governess was jabbed at with a knife by a man who slit the child's dress without wounding her.

—To the Men of Lowell—

I wish to thank you for the whole-souled, wildly enthusiastic reception accorded me in Lowell at my opening last Saturday.

In a lifetime of merchant trafficking, embracing the experience of opening and maintaining 15 different tailoring stores, it has been my pleasure to receive many hearty welcome-to-our-cities from the people of New England.

But my hat is off to Lowell. I can at this time but acknowledge my appreciation and promise you one and all that I shall endeavor to the utmost of my ability to justify that confidence which you so generously showered upon me Saturday.

To the men who in the wildfire rush could not receive the attention they ought to get I offer apology. You saw the conditions. But as I am going to stay in Lowell for keeps from today on, we shall have better opportunity to get acquainted.

Within ten miles of the city of Lowell are situated the greatest woolen mills of this country—the birthplace and lifelong home of woolens and weaves recognized throughout the world as "American Classics."

I opened a new store in Lowell Saturday and as a starter I directed my announcement to the operatives of these great woolen mills—the men who spend their lifetime making woolens—men who, if anybody knows, ought to know woolens.

My reception will always be historic in the annals of Lowell. These weavers came to me, with their knowledge of woolens and values, with their doubts, their misgivings and their skepticism. They saw—they gave me their orders and went home—like Chapman converts.

From the scouring rooms, the dye rooms, the finishing rooms—from loom, from office, they came singly, in pairs and in crowds, and all who could be waited on left orders.

My success in Boston and in out-of-town stores has been gratifying in the extreme. That each succeeding store surpasses the older success, however, is more gratifying—it proves that the "good news travels."

The finest line of woolens in the United States. Blue Serges, Worstedes and Cheviots—suits or overcoats—made to your order with Mitchell concave shoulders including an extra pair of pants, absolutely free for this week only . . . $12

SOME DAIRY RULES

That Must be Observed by Milk Dealers

Dealers

Dr. Rose of the state board of health and Leroy Turner, inspector of milk and vinegar for Lowell, have written the last week or two made a round of the dairies and stables in and about Lowell and have thoroughly inspected them as to cleanliness. They found some of the places in pretty poor condition and to those engaged in the milk business whose places were not up to the standard the first act was to read.

Dr. Rose made his report to the state board and suggestions offered by him were forwarded to the local board of health. Some of the dealers were called before the local board of health and were given to understand that they would have to improve the condition of things if they desired to continue in the business.

Mr. Turner, the local inspector, in conversation with a representative of The Sun, today said that the average milkman was anxious to keep his milk up to the standard required by law and that the dealers and producers as a whole are anxious to respect the laws and regulations governing the milk business.

"On my trip around to the different places with Dr. Rose of the state board," said Mr. Turner, "suggestions were offered and instructions were given. It is too soon to say just how well the instructions will be lived up to, but I will make another tour at an early date and if I find that conditions have not improved there'll be something doing."

"The milk at the present time is fairly well up to the standard. The average milk dealer or producer is anxious to have his milk up to the standard. He realizes that his appearance in police court for selling or having milk found in his possession that did not measure up to the standard, or adulterated milk, is a great shock to his business."

The following dairy rules are from a list of 50 supplied by the state board of health and issued by the milk inspector of this city:

The Owner and His Helpers
Read current dairy literature and keep posted on new ideas.
Observe and enforce the utmost cleanliness about the cattle, their attendants, the stable, the dairy, and all utensils.

A person suffering from any disease, or who has been exposed to contagious disease, must remain away from the cows and the milk.

The Stable
Keep dairy cattle in a room or building by themselves. It is preferable to have the floor below and no stairs left.
Stables should be well ventilated, lighted, and drained; should have tight floors and walls and be plainly constructed.

Allow no strong smelling material in the stable for any length of time.
Whitewash the stable once or twice a year.
Use no dry, dusty feed just previous to milking; if fodder is dusty, sprinkle it before it is fed.
Clean and thoroughly air the stable before milking; in hot weather sprinkle the floor.

Keep the stable and dairy room in good condition and then insist that the dairy, factory, or place where the milk is kept be kept equally well.

The Cows
Have the herd examined at least twice a year by a skilled veterinarian.
Promptly remove from the herd any animal suspected of being in bad health and reject her milk. Never add an animal to the herd until certain it is free from disease, especially tuberculosis.

Do not move cows faster than a comfortable walk while on the way to place of milking or feeding.
Never allow the cows to be excited by hard driving, abuse, loud talking, or unnecessary disturbance; do not expose them to cold or storms.
Do not change the feed suddenly.
Feed liberally, and use only fresh, palatable feed stuffs; in no case should decomposed or moldy material be used.

Provide water in abundance, easy of access, and always pure, fresh, but not too cold.
Salt should always be accessible.
Do not allow any strong flavored feed, like garlic, cabbage, and turnips, to be eaten, except immediately after milking.

Milking
The milker should be clean in all respects; he should not use tobacco; he should wash and dry his hands just before milking.
The milker should wear a clean outer garment, used only while milking, and kept in a clean place at other times.
Milk quickly, cleanly, and thoroughly. Cows do not like unnecessary noise or delay. Commence milking at exactly the same hour every morning and evening, and milk the cows in the same order.

Milk with dry hands; never allow the hands to come in contact with the milk.
Do not allow dogs, cats or loafers to be around at milking time.
If any keelback occurs by which a full udder or partly full of milk becomes dirty, do not try to remedy this by squeezing, but reject all this milk and rinse the udder.

Weigh and record the milk given by each cow, and take a sample morning and night, at least once a week, for testing by the fat test.

Care of Milk
Remove the milk of every cow at once from the stable to a clean, dry room, where the air is pure and sweet. Do not allow cows to remain in stables while they are being filled.
Strain the milk through a metal gauge and a flannel cloth or layer of cotton as soon as it is drawn.
Aerate and cool the milk as soon as strained.
If an apparatus for ailing and cooling at the same time is not at hand, the milk should be ailed first. This must be done in pure air, and it should then be cooled to 45 degrees if the milk is for shipment, or to 60 degrees if for home use or delivery to a factory.

Agents Sent
CHAS. W. MORSE
NOT ALLOWED TO TAKE AUTO RIDE

NEW HAVEN, Feb. 19.—The governor of Connecticut, a town in southwestern Maine, has sent out agents to investigate the damage wrought by the earthquake of Jan. 27 in the province of Vermont. The center of intensity apparently was two days' journey from Portland. Only incomplete reports have reached Portland but it has been established that 15 villages were wholly or partially destroyed and it is estimated that the total number of inhabitants will be more than fifty.

Only small portions of the inhabitants of the area where the shocks were most severe escaped. Some villages were completely destroyed and others were left in ruins. The damage was particularly severe in the towns of Vergennes and Waterbury. Not a soul belonging to these communities was left alive, owing to the extremely momentous character of the region the shocks were comparatively local in their effect but a severe quake was felt as far west as the Canadian border.

A COLLISION
NEW HAVEN, Feb. 19.—Two trolley cars were in a head-on collision in East Haven yesterday and nearly all the passengers were slightly hurt. One person had a fracture of a bone. The responsibility has not been fixed.

UNKNOWN MAN IDENTIFIED
PROVIDENCE, R. I., Feb. 19.—The identity of the unknown man who was lost from the steamer Monas February 13 between New Orleans and New York was established yesterday by the discovery of the man's body in the water near the New York harbor. The man was identified as a John of Boston, following the disappearance of the man, nothing was found that would establish his identity except a letter in his pocket. This letter was addressed to Wally. John was 35 years of age and has a father and two brothers living in Boston. Wally was at sea to account for his disappearance.

FEARED TOTAL LOSS OF HAIR
Scalp had been Scaly for Some Time—After an Attack of Typhoid Fever his Hair Began to Fall Out by the Handful—Now It Is THICKER THAN EVER THANKS TO CUTICURA

"About two years ago I was troubled with my head being scaly, like dandruff, but heavier—although I washed my head once a week always. It never gave me any trouble such as itching or smarting and I never noticed any falling of the hair. But shortly after that I had an attack of typhoid fever and I was out of the hospital possibly two months when I first noticed the loss of hair, my scalp being still scaly. I started to use a dandruff cure to no effect whatever. And I used a genuine preparation of Cuticura which did no good either. Whether it was the effect of the fever or some scalp disease I don't know, but I had actually lost hope of saving any hair at all. I could brush it off my coat by the handful. It got so bad that I didn't need to comb it any more. In fact I was afraid to touch my hair. My brother used the Cuticura Remedies with satisfaction, and came to try them. After using two boxes of Cuticura Soap and nearly a box of Cuticura Ointment, the change was surprising. My scalp is now clear and healthy as could be seen by the hair that is growing. Whereas six months ago I had my mind made up to be bald in a short time. I will have a photograph taken later and send you one. William F. Brown, 5812 Broad St., Pittsburgh, Penn., May 7 and 21, '08."

Warm baths with Cuticura Soap and gentle anointings with Cuticura Ointment, or Cuticura Cream (liquid or pill), afford instant relief from most distressing forms of itching, burning, scaly, crusty eruptions, eczema, rashes, inflammations, irritations and chafings of infancy and childhood, permit rest and sleep, and point to a speed and permanent cure in the majority of cases, when all other remedies fail.

Cuticura Soap (5¢), Ointment (50¢), Cream (25¢) and Pills (25¢) are sold by all druggists and by the Cuticura Dispensary, 150 N. 3rd St., St. Louis, Mo.

A PETITION FOR BETTER CAR SERVICE IN THE HIGHLANDS

The following petition has been filed by some residents of the Highlands: To the president and board of directors of the Boston & Northern Street Railway company.

Gentlemen: Some ten years ago you petitioned the city of Lowell for the right to extend the Highland line through Stevens street. Your petition was granted and you did extend said line to Parker street, promising to make further extension of the line in two years, which promise you have not kept.

Meanwhile the section of the city beyond Parker street, represented by the list of citizens appended has grown and is growing as is evidenced by the building of a great number of private residences and the construction of a large new grammar school which is now nearly complete.

We therefore, the undersigned residents and property owners of Stevens street and adjoining streets, do petition your company:

First—To extend the Highland line to Jones street.

Secondly—To give a fifteen minute service.

Thirdly—To provide better, and cleaner cars properly heated.

SENATOR SHAW

Wants Direct Nomination of U. S. Senators

BOSTON, Feb. 19.—There is some interest at the state house over the date of the hearing on Senator Shaw's bill relative to direct nomination of U. S. senators. In the bulletin of committee hearings published a few days ago the matter was scheduled for hearing Feb. 21. Senator Shaw says that before this assignment was made he had requested Senator Rockwood, chairman of the committee, not to put the bill down for hearing till some time in March, as he would have to be absent more or less this month.

As soon as the bulletin appeared with the Feb. 21 assignment Senator Shaw wrote the senate head of the committee asking if the hearing could be postponed till some time after the inauguration of President Taft, which he intended to attend. Yesterday the Essex man received a letter to the effect that the committee would hear him this morning, or, if he chose to appear on the matter in executive session, the committee would hear him any time up to March 15.

Senator Shaw is not satisfied and the situation is causing some comment, especially because of the nature of the subject matter of his bill.

Lustrous Hair

IT COMES ONLY TO THOSE WHO USE A PERFECT DRESSING

Have you seen a pretty face with regular features, clear skin, pearly teeth and plenty of animation and vivacity, and yet remarked that there was something lacking that really made the individual less charming than her sister of plainer possessions? A moment's study of such a face will show you clearly that it is the use of lustrous hair which makes the difference.

The Girl with the Auburn Hair is on every package.

It will make any woman's harsh and unattractive hair soft, lustrous and luxuriant in a few days. It is the ideal, delightful, rejuvenating tonic that makes hair grow; it is not sticky or greasy, but on the other hand is most pleasant and daintily perfumed, and only 50 cents a large bottle at Carter & Sherburne's or direct. All charges prepaid by the American Makers, Groux Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

It is guaranteed by Carter & Sherburne, the agents in Lowell, to cure dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks or money back.

BOY WAS KILLED

As Result of Dispute With a Companion

WATERTOWN, Feb. 19.—A school-boy dispute between two pupils of the Marshall Spring school yesterday resulted in the death of Frank Crossland, aged 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Crossland, of 28 Summer street.

His alleged assailant, John Scanlon, aged 14, was taken into custody later by Patrolman John F. Millmore when the Scanlon lad called at the home of William O'Brien, 17 Waverly avenue.

The Crossland lad dropped to the ground, young Scanlon became frightened and tried to raise his schoolmate up, but young Crossland was unconscious.

Scanlon then ran to his home, 78 North Beacon street, and told his mother that he had hit a boy and thought he had hurt him. His mother told him to get his dinner and go back and see how badly the boy had been injured.

The Scanlon lad was so excited that he could not sleep, and he left the house saying that he was going back to see how Crossland was getting along. Upon his arrival at the O'Brien house he was detained by the police. Scanlon told the same story at the police station that he told his mother.

William O'Brien, an eyewitness to the affair, said that he was sitting at his window when the boys were coming from school. He noticed that a couple of the lads were in a heated argument. Just as they reached his house he saw they got at it in real earnest. Each had struck two or three blows, and honors appeared even when he saw one sink to the ground.

When the lad did not arise immediately he thought that the boy must have been badly hurt. Pulling on a pair of rubbers over his slippers, O'Brien ran into the street where the lad was lying.

When he reached the boy he was just gasping. He opened his shirt and then carried him into his house, sent a boy to inform Principal C. W. Walters and another boy for a physician, Dr. McNeely, the town physician, answered the call and pronounced young Crossland beyond human aid.

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Plott, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1909. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public

This is by far the largest average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.

The idea of a municipal centre has received the quietus for the present. It is not absolutely essential, of course, but its acquisition is desirable in the interests of the city's future.

LET THERE BE MORE LIGHT.

Mayor Brown's idea for lighting up Middlesex street at night is worthy of consideration. At present that street is rather dark in places, and business thereon is thereby hampered.

THE KNOX ENABLING BILL.

Congress was cuffed into passing the Knox enabling bill. It establishes a bad precedent. President-elect Taft should have been compelled to find another man for premier. There is no scarcity of men fully as well equipped for the position as is Knox.

A DANGEROUS PRACTICE

The danger of carrying sharp instruments was illustrated in New York the other day when a boy who had a pointed ink eraser in his pocket was killed in a fall, the instrument having pierced his lung. It was his fifteenth birthday, and he was rushing from a corps of stenographers who wanted to kiss him in recognition of the event. He was killed in the ordeal.

BUSINESS METHODS.

When a man is placed at the head of a great corporation there are certain duties that he must entrust to his subordinates. If he gets down to give his time or attention to insignificant details of business in any department, he must naturally neglect matters of importance that should receive his best thought and attention. What is true in this respect of a big corporation is equally true of a city.

THE SILENCE ROOM.

The silence room for women provided in connection with the Immigrant church in Boston must be to talkative women what solitary confinement would be to the average man. We do not believe the silence room will prove popular, it is so hard for a woman to stop talking about her neighbors, about the latest fashions and the soporific qualities of the pastor's last sermon.

HIGHER FIRE LOSSES.

The fire losses are climbing upward in this country, but not so in other countries. The fire losses for last year are set down at $245,000,000, whereas the losses for the previous year were $10,000,000 less. The aggregate for the last decade is set down as $2,929,754,393. In this country the per capita fire loss is $3.02 as against 33 cents in the principal European countries.

This is the penalty of having so many wooden houses and so many of them built without the ordinary provisions against fire.

MAYOR HIBBARD DID NOT MAKE GOOD.

Mayor Hibbard of Boston set out with a great flourish of trumpets, promising radical retrenchment and reduction of taxes, but he has failed to make good.

The expenses of his office have exceeded the outlay under his predecessors. He exceeded his appropriation by $560, while his bills for traveling expenses and carriage hire broke all previous records. Besides his expenditure for entertaining guests was $1000 in excess of the amount spent in the year of the Boston old home week. Mayor Hibbard has posed in New York and elsewhere as a reform mayor; but although he snook up things to some extent he has not affected any material improvement nor accomplished the retrenchment that he promised. With the people who elected him, he had much criticism of past administrations, but although these were severely scored by the finance commission, yet Mayor Hibbard's administration has shown but slight, if any, improvement upon that of his immediate predecessor.

BILL THAT SHOULD PASS.

Before the legislature of this state at the present time is a bill that should be promptly enacted. It provides that all paid reading matter promoting the sale of stocks in mining properties, corporations, or any money-making scheme, what-so-ever, should be labelled "advertisement."

A few years ago a law was enacted to distinguish paid political advertising from news matter. That served a good purpose, but a law such as provided for in the bill just mentioned is far more necessary. These "readers" about "banana" stocks and about opportunities to get rich quick are present slipped into newspapers in the guise of news matter, and many simple-minded people are thus deluded into investing money in wild schemes. The functions of a newspaper embrace the publication of news, the expression of opinion in editorial form and advertising.

If the last named be not properly distinguished from the other two it is plain that the public will thereby be deluded into investment in schemes organized mainly to rob honest people of their money.

Lowell citizens have lost heavily in the past on account of investing in stock-jobbing schemes. We do not know to what extent this was brought about by the form of advertising which this law would remedy. When a concern with stock to sell inserts a displayed advertisement it expects a reading notice apart from the advertisement. The custom with most papers has been to print this local notice without any advertising label and, therefore, in a way that was liable to be understood as voicing the opinions of the paper in which it appears.

That bill, if passed, will damage the sale of gold bricks and ketchikan copper of "smokers."

PACKING HOUSES

Consolidation Agreement Made Known

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—The agreement under which the four largest packing houses of the country were to have been consolidated was made public yesterday in the trial of the suit of Frederick Joseph against Ferdinand Salzbarger, for recovery of $200,000 of stock which the plaintiff charged Mr. Salzbarger with having converted to his own use.

Under direct examination by his counsel, Samuel Untermyer, Mr. Joseph testified that the agreement provided for the merger of the Schwanenbach & Salzbarger, the American Packing Co., the Swift Co. and the Nelson Morris Packing Co. Provision was also made for the absorption of the Quality Packing Co.

Under the terms of the agreement the stock of the Schwanenbach & Salzbarger Co. was to have been exchanged for $100 in cash or preferred stock and $200 in common stock of the new corporation.

In the course of the acquisition of Schwanenbach & Salzbarger stock, preparatory to its being turned into the new corporation, shares were alleged to have been purchased for the account of Mr. Joseph at an average price of $7.50 a share.

These shares, Mr. Joseph testified, were turned over to Mr. Salzbarger, who represented the Schwanenbach & Salzbarger Co. in the merger negotiations.

Owing to the action of the government and the panic of 1907, the proposed consolidation fell through and

Mr. Joseph requested that the stock contributed by him to the pool be returned to him. This, however, Mr. Salzbarger has refused to do, the plaintiff alleges, and it is in order to compel him to do so that the present action is brought.

Since its purchase the stock has grown in value and is now worth, it is claimed, the amount sued for by Mr. Joseph.

A WIDER ISSUE

IN THE PANAMA CANAL LABEL CASE

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 18.—The News publishes the following statement concerning the Panama canal label case.

The issue presented by the plaintiffs is, of course, one for the courts. In regard to that little or nothing need be said. But there is a wider issue concerning which we think a good deal will be said. Perhaps it is needless to say that the course of the News will be in no way influenced or affected by what has happened. We shall continue to discuss public questions on their merits, as in the past, and to criticize public men without either personal or partisan bias.

This is the phase of the question that most concerns the public. It is a right to know that the functions of a free and independent newspaper will not cease to be performed, and also to know that no personal element will be allowed to obstruct itself in any of the criticisms that we may feel called on to make. We shall not be content with silence, nor tempted into unfairness. Believing that the great principle of freedom of the press is at stake, we must do what we can to uphold it. No more important service than this can be performed by a newspaper, especially at this time. The public, to which alone the News acknowledges any obligation, may feel sure that this paper will continue to serve its interests as it sees them. To sum up, we shall print the news and tell the truth about it as it is given us to see the truth.

BURLINGTON, Vt., Feb. 18.—A race with death across the United States from El Paso, Texas, to Burlington was finished here today when Dr. H. Nelson Jackson arrived at his dying wife's bedside after a 64 hour trip over more than 2500 miles of rail. A record for the journey from Chicago to the city was established in the course of the race, the nearly 1000 miles being covered in 21 hours. The race, from Chicago, however, was made in a special train, the chartering of which cost Dr. Jackson $500. The fastest time of the journey was made between Chicago and Cleveland, which are 183 miles apart, this part of the trip occupying but 3 hours 35 minutes.

Dr. Jackson had been traveling in Mexico and had reached El Paso, when he was notified of the sudden and violent illness of his wife through an attack of acute indigestion. He made it his duty there to charter a special train to carry him through the remainder of his journey, but was forced to take passage on the regular trains with their breaks in connections.

Dr. Jackson left El Paso Monday morning and covered the 155 miles between that place and Chicago by making several stops and changes, in about 14 hours. A special train was awaiting him in Chicago and he immediately set off on the last lap of his trip.

Mrs. Jackson was alive when her husband reached her side, but her life is despaired of.

A MASTER MASON

Pres.-Elect Taft Was Initiated Last Night

CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 18.—William H. Taft, president-elect of the United States, is a master Mason. The joyous ceremony which brought him that distinction yesterday was conducted by Charles S. Hoskinson, the most worshipful grand master of the lodge of the most ancient and honorable fraternity of free and accepted Masons of the state of Ohio.

The highest Masonic authorities of seventeen states witnessed Mr. Taft's admission into the order, as did a body representing prominent citizens of Cincinnati and the members of Kilmartin lodge of which Attorney Taft, father of the president-elect, was a member, and into which Charles P. Taft was initiated under the auspices of his father.

Scottish Rite cathedral was the scene of the ceremonies. Its main floor and gallery were crowded when the distinguished candidate arrived. The procedure which culminated in the declaration that Mr. Taft was a Mason occupied thirty-five minutes.

Mr. Taft received many greetings on a new plane of fellowship as he was escorted from the hall by the committee having in charge his initiation.

The experience of being declared a Mason at night did not end with the afternoon session of the grand lodge. Mr. Taft witnessed during the evening the regular form of initiating a member.

The ceremony being conducted by Alexander M. Foster, D. M. of the Kilmartin lodge. Between the two sessions of the lodge there was a reception for Masonic brethren at Mr. Taft's residence and after the ceremonies there was a brilliant ball at the Algon Hotel, on one of Cincinnati's Seven Hills. The president-elect attended all these functions.

Frank H. Hildreth, at the request of Mr. Taft, came here yesterday from Chicago and after a conference left for Washington. That the discussion related to the undecided part of secretory of the treasury was admitted, but beyond the statement that no decision had been reached, no further was said.

Mr. Taft's only positive statement was that no decision had yet been reached.

The president-elect reached this city at 8:45, and after breakfast, according to reports, he was seen in the city.

The day at Mr. Taft's residence during his time to his correspondence his inaugural address and

RELIEF WORK

COMMITTEE DECIDES TO ERECT WOODEN BARRACKS

ROME, Feb. 18. The special American relief expedition, headed by Nelson Gay of Boston and Earl Dodge, Ambassador Gibson's secretary, returned here from Calabria last night. They remained eleven days in the earthquake zone, visiting 40 towns and villages and collecting information with regard to thirty others. They covered 100 miles by automobile and a much longer distance by train.

Everywhere in the mountain villages they found great destitution. The people refused to receive money, saying that they did not know what to do with it; what they wanted beyond everything else was shelter.

The Americans distributed a great quantity of provisions with astonishing rapidity and a quantity of milk which they were able to supply was most gratefully received.

After receiving the report of Mr. Gay, the American committee in Rome appropriated $20,000 for the erection of wooden barracks, $2000 for roofing and $24,000 for tent barracks for the devastated territory. This practically exhausts the balance of the fund.

Ambassador Gibson has presented to the minister of marine $3221 which was contributed by the officers and crews of the American Atlantic fleet for the families of the Italian officers and other literary work. He will attend to the dinner of the Knickerbocker club to-night, when he will hear Cincinnati "hoisted." He will leave for Philadelphia Saturday.

LUMBER SENT TO ITALY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18. Fifteen million feet of lumber is now on the way to Italy to be used in the construction of the houses for the earthquake victims, the last shipment having left New York Tuesday. ACTRESS BEATEN DEATH OF BOY KELLEHER CASE CHIEF GERONIMO

She Was Attacked by a Gang

Is Being Probed by the Police

Friends Come to Assist-ance of Woman

Was a Noted Apache Indian

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—A young woman, who said she was Gladys Curtis, an actress, twenty-two years old, was dragged into a cellar at No. 123 Washington street, last night, by seven or eight men, said by the police to be the Washington street gang, and there murdered and robbed. She was found in the cellar by Sergeant McMahon, of the Church street station, and two patrolmen, who were on duty at the time.

Miss Curtis was removed to the Madison street hospital, suffering from severe shock, according to the hospital records, from some drug. The police arrested three young men, and they were held after the young woman had identified them. They said they were Robert Kelly, of No. 54 Washington street; Arnold Burke, of No. 100 Greenwich street; and Howard Gray, of No. 88 Greenwich street. Each is about nineteen years old.

According to the young woman's story, she was on her way home, and was passing through Washington street to Beethoven street to take a Ninth avenue elevated train. She was suddenly seized by seven or eight young men, who half dragged, half carried her into the dark cellar.

When Sergeant McMahon was told that a woman had been dragged into the cellar he procured a candle and entered the cellar in company with Patrolmen McKittick and Bishop. The place was so dark that the candle was of little use. Suddenly they came upon the actress, unconscious and lying partly in a large clothes basket. Her clothing was torn and she was gagged with a handkerchief.

A call for an ambulance was sent in. The woman was in a hysterical condition in the hospital, and the police are not positive as to whether she gave her stage name or real name. She said she was married and lived at No. 42 West Twenty-second street. She was too hysterical to give any clear account of where she had been just previous to the attack.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—Ignoring the action of Coroner Dies in granting a burial permit to the family of fifteen-year-old Philip Brooks Underhill, of No. 83 Jefferson street, Yonkers, who died after an operation last Saturday, Chief-of-Police Daniel Wolf has started a rigid investigation as to the manner of the boy's death.

The chief's procedure consisted in examining the sixty pupils of Yonkers public school No. 13, which the boy attended.

With Detective Lieutenant McGovern, and Police Clerk James Evans, he hopes to show cause for excluding the body to determine whether death resulted from injuries following a blow, which the officials declare, was said by the boy to have been delivered upon his head by Warren L. Kaussman, principal of the school.

No charge is made directly against Mr. Kaussman.

The police story is that on January 26 the principal called the boy from his classroom into a corridor. So far as testimony of the pupils goes, there were sounds of a scuffle—sounds seeming to indicate that someone was being dragged through the hallway.

None of the pupils actually saw the encounter, if there was one. But afterward young Underhill told classmates, according to the testimony, that Mr. Kaussman had hurled him against the wall, and that the side of his head was hurt. Later, mistletoe, a disease of the inner ear, usually deadly, set in. The boy was operated upon at St. John's hospital. He died after the operation.

Mr. Kaussman denies that he punished the boy at the time stated, but admitted he had at times placed boys on his knee, the chief says, and punished them mildly.

The police are still investigating, but have made no charge yet. Wolf intimated last night that the body might be exhumed and an autopsy held to clear up the case.

FOR CONTEMPT

GIRL MANUFACTURER WAS HELD FOR A TIME

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—Miss Anna Lieberman, who, at nineteen, is running the shoe manufactory her father left in Williamsburg when he died six weeks ago, was held in contempt of court by Surrogate Ketchum, of Kings county, for a little while yesterday because she objected to turning over for official inspection the bank books of the concern.

Miss Lieberman, who went into the business at No. 45 Debevoise street, not particularly because she loves industry, but because there was nobody else to do it and support her mother and the six children, had been subpoenaed by creditors. She brought the other books and submitted them willingly. But when the surrogate asked her about the bank books she said that those were the personal effects of her father and her family, and that she didn't intend to exhibit them even to a court.

Surrogate Ketchum became angry and when she refused a second time he ordered two court officers to hold her in custody until she should change her mind. Two hours later she gave in and brought the bank books to court.

STAR THEATRE

In the talking picture "Under Northern Skies," being presented at the Star Theatre, the leading company of actors and actresses, who are assisted in the presentation by a first-class orchestra, including a violinist, there is entertainment which is alone worth the admission price of five cents, for which seats can be had. The scene is laid in a lumber camp. The villagers dance. Yonkers is the order of play. Of course, there is a plot. It is just like seeing a play. There was an entire change of program today. New songs were sung.

BOSTON, Feb. 18.—Friends of Mrs. Mary Kelleher, the domestic who is held in the East Cambridge jail on a charge of arson, and about whom Somerville's big police mystery investigation revolves, spring a coup on the prosecution yesterday.

They have retained as her chief counsel, H. H. Patten, former county attorney of Middlesex county, Mr. Patten's friends think plan to fight to the last ditch the arson charge, also any move that the government may make to prove her insane or connect her with the poisoning of any of her relatives.

Considerable mystery surrounds the identity of these friends, who are said to be influential while the exact nature of their interest in the case is fully as obscure.

Mr. Patten refuses to throw any light on the matter.

Together with his associate, S. H. Stiles, a well known young Boston attorney, Mr. Patten visited the accused woman in her cell yesterday afternoon and remained with her a couple of hours. As he left the jail, Mr. Patten was seen by a reporter, and to his inquiry did he consider Mrs. Kelleher mentally imbalanced, he promptly replied in the negative.

Mr. Patten also stated emphatically that statements to the effect that Mrs. Kelleher had confessed to the police that she set the fires she is charged with starting were untrue.

It was evident that whatever his plans are in regard to the case against Mrs. Kelleher, the word "fight" occupies a conspicuous place in them.

It was learned yesterday that in the opinion of relatives of Mrs. Kelleher, the accused woman is slowly but surely breaking down under the strain that she is being subjected to. That she has aged to a remarkable extent and that she appears haggard and drawn, and at least 10 years older than she did before her arrest, is vouched for by her sister-in-law.

Knowledge said yesterday that while she did not feel able to state whether or not her sister-in-law is sane, that the accused woman seemed dazed during her visit to her.

TEACHER'S LIFE

WAS SAVED BY BOY FROM STATE SCHOOL

OWATONNA, Minn., Feb. 18.—Miss Edith Clark of this city was found in a semi-conscious condition and at the point of death on the prairie 10 miles southeast of this city yesterday.

Miss Clark, who teaches school near this point, started out as usual, despite the blizzard. Walking along the country road, she became confused and stepped off a culvert into a small creek plunging into the water waist deep. She managed to crawl out of the water and to walk some distance before the ice, weighing down her skirts, made progress impossible.

The snow sank into a snow drift, calling for help. Her cry was heard by Floyd Allie, a state public school inmate, who at present is staying at a home in that vicinity. And attending the school taught by Miss Clark. Allie found her almost frozen and managed to carry and drag her to the schoolhouse, where he succeeded in restoring her to consciousness.

INDEPENDENCE OF BULGARIA

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Feb. 18.—It is reported in well informed quarters here that Russia, France and Great Britain have given notice of their recognition of the independence of Bulgaria. The notice was sent to the king, the queen and the rank of king since then assumed by Prince Ferdinand. The difficulties in the way of Ferdinand's attending the funeral of Grand Duke Vladimir in St. Petersburg will thus be removed. Ferdinand is at present in Vienna and he has expressed the wish to attend the funeral of the late grand duke with whom he held a close friendship for many years.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Geronimo, war chief of the Bedonkohe Apaches, who died in Oklahoma at the age of eighty years, was one of the very few Indians that the United States soldiers gave credit for possessing any military genius. He was pursued steadily by troops for fifteen years and finally was captured by General Crook. He seemed to reform and the government put him on a reservation. He broke loose again in 1882, and General Miles caught him in 1885. He was kept in Florida for many years, but later taken to the southwest.

FILES BILL

OLD COLONY TRUST COMPANY ENTERS CROSS ACTION

ATLANTA, Feb. 18.—The Old Colony Trust company of Boston yesterday filed a cross-bill in equity in the United States circuit court, asking for the enforcement of a mortgage held by themselves as trustees to secure $300,000 of gold bonds of the Atlanta, Birmingham & Atlantic railroad, payable on Jan. 1, 1934.

The trust company alleges default of payment of interest, which was presented as constituting a breach of the covenant required to be kept and performed under the provisions of the mortgage. The defendant claims it is thus entitled to a foreclosure of the mortgage executed for the protection of its rights and those of the bondholders, and claims the right to enter upon the mortgaged property and as a matter of right to the appointment of receiver or receivers of the mortgaged premises, etc., and of the revenues of all kinds thereof. It is further prayed in the cross-bill that the Atlanta, Birmingham & Atlantic be summoned to answer same.

PAID EXPENSES

AFTER ELOPING WITH HANDSOME YOUNG MAN

PORT HURON, Mich., Feb. 18.—When the immigration authorities at Port Huron stopped Miss Jeanne Bourne, aged 21, and Hugh Lawrence, aged 26, they put an end to an elopement which reversed the usual order, the woman in this case running away with the man.

The couple declared stoutly that they were married and gave another name to the officers, but finally broke down and said that they were bound from Montreal to Detroit. The girl is a pretty French Canadian, while the young man is described as a regular American. When questioned the girl told the officers that she happened to see the young man on one of the Montreal streets and had become infatuated with him. Other girls, however, took a fancy to Lawrence. Miss Bourne determined that she should have him all to herself, and finally succeeded in persuading him to start with her to Detroit, after paying all expenses. The couple were deported.

SALEM CADET BAND

The Salem Cadet band, which is to play at the Y. M. C. A. Men's meeting at Hathaway's next Sunday afternoon at 8:15 o'clock has an enviable record. This band, composed of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery company of England several years ago, and was commanded by King Edward for its remarkable music. It is one of the best concert bands in this part of the country.

The program for Sunday is as follows:

March, "National Emblem," Raggy

THE GRAFT CASES

Councilman Klein Was Placed On Trial Today

PITTSBURG, Feb. 18.—When the trial of Councilman John P. Klein, which is the second resulting from the recent graft exposures, was resumed today in criminal court it was before a panel of five judges. The prosecution would call witnesses including every member of the city council.

Among the questions which will be asked by the defense is the following: "Did they receive any of the vast amount of money that is alleged to have been obtained in the form of bribes?"

Following the conviction yesterday of W. W. Ramsey, vice-president of the German National bank, on charges of building Councilman Klein with $17,500, for the passing of an ordinance making the German National a city department, the case of Klein was immediately taken up. Ramsey was the first witness called against him and was followed by A. A. Viseck, former cashier of the same bank, who is also under charges. Klein pleaded "not guilty" and the commonwealth is now seeking to convict him of soliciting and accepting money. Ramsey and Viseck under oath have admitted giving him. The court room was filled with hundreds of lawyers, business men and politicians when the trial started today.

BAR FOREIGNERS

From Holding Property in Cuba

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—A bill prohibiting foreigners holding any property in Cuba has been introduced into the house at Havana, according to a special cable dispatch to the Herald. Property of Americans, French, Spanish, Germans and English in the amount of nearly two billion dollars would be affected by the measure, says the dispatch. The bill contains three clauses, as follows: "That only Cubans, native born or naturalized, can acquire property. That all business transactions now under way for transferring property to foreigners shall be voidable. That this law will take effect from the date of its publication in the Gazette."

GIVES BAIL

WOMAN RELENTS AFTER ARREST OF YOUTH

BOSTON, Feb. 18.—After causing the arrest of Lee S. Hurlburt, 24 years old, a member of a prominent family of Worcester, on the charge of stealing her jewelry valued at $400, Mrs. Hurlburt, living at the Hotel Oxford, went to the Back Bay police station and bailed him out.

Hurlburt is alleged to have stolen five diamond rings, three diamond studs and a diamond pin, while visiting Mrs. Hurlburt recently when she was living at 70 Westland avenue.

The police say the jewels were found on Hurlburt.

When the case comes up in court today it is believed Mrs. Hurlburt will make a plea to have him placed on probation.

When interviewed at the Hotel Oxford last night, Mrs. Hurlburt refused to give any particulars regarding the alleged theft.

Hurlburt lives with his parents at 11 Leinster street, a fashionable residential section of Worcester.

CHEESE POISONS MAN
ANESBURY, Feb. 18.—Frank Swift, a carpenter who resides on Marlboro street, is in a serious condition at his home from the effects of eating a half pound of cheese yesterday.

Drs. Mullen and Fitchburg attended him. Today his condition is such that it is thought that he will have to be taken to the hospital at Newburyport.

STETSON'S "UNCLE TOM'S CABIN"

Monday's attraction at the opera house will be the always welcome Stetson's big double "Uncle Tom's Cabin," a good presentation of the story of the life in the sunny south before the civil war. The Stetson company presents the play with a wealth of scenic and electrical effects. To prove the success depicted a perfect atmosphere and the acting company is said to be one of the best that has ever appeared in the west. The play will be given at noon. Popular prices will prevail for both afternoon and evening.

HATHAWAY THEATRE

Most western deputies have proven to be rather wild, ferocious and not at all good looking, but there's one at Hathaway's theatre this week in "The Bad Man and the Deputy," who is just the opposite. Her real name is Mary Gray Clifton, and she's just a sweet, pretty and gentle as can be. William Hargreaves, an excellent actor, appears as "Jack Talbot," the bad man in the play, and he brings to the portrayed much rugged strength. Annie Allen is the ranch owner who participates in the duel in the dark, and western, and the little spot is extremely well done and its theme is treated in an original manner.

The remainder of the bill holds many good things. Sammy Watson appears with his educated farmyard animals, a donkey, mules, ducks, dogs, cats and geese. Ward & Curran in a new version of "The Terrible Judge" are warranted to convulse with laughter and the Piquettes give one of the most contentment acts seen here in a long time. Ruby Raymond and her street walking line-up just as if they were to participate in an amateur contest and the Jags, a man and a woman, open the bill well. The motion pictures are good.

Performances will be given every afternoon and evening during the remainder of the week, with special seats for women at the matinees.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

The program at the Academy changed completely today with four reels of first run moving pictures. Two new illustrated songs and a change in the program of "Traveling Trunks." Tomorrow the performance will run on the same lines from 2 to 10:30 and on Sunday with a complete change of bill again. A continuous performance will be given from 2 to 10:30 o'clock. On Monday, Washington's Birthday, in honor of the holiday the management will present to all attending the theatre a party and party will be given. The first five cent theatre to offer anything in the seventh line. An especially attractive program will also be presented on Monday. The price of admission remains unchanged. Five cents admits to all and includes a good seat or which there are hundreds to be had. A few orchestra seats are reserved at low costs.

THEATRE VOYONS

Those who love the theatre will appreciate two of the features shown today at the Theatre Voyons. "An Irish Hero" and "The King of the Ring." The former tells a story of a brave Irish lad who risks his life for a chance to win a girl and a fortune for the last time of his life. "The King of the Ring" is a college story that tells how a young man who has been expelled from college wins fame in the ring and incidentally saves his father's fortune. "The King of the Ring" is the best comedy yet combined with a clever way the funniest and one of the biggest hits. As the years roll on, please the ballad, covers, for its music and verse are excellent. "A Grand Old Time" is the latest patriotic march song and it is a hit.

A NEW RECORD

THE BASEBALL WAR

Harry Pulliam Given Indefinite Leave of Absence

CHICAGO, Feb. 19. — Everything came out all right yesterday in the last act of the serio-comic baseball war which had been going on in these parts since the close of last season. No more fourth act of a melodrama over contained more rebores of old friends, more falling on necks and weeping, or more pronounced and wholesale forgiveness.

C. Webb Murphy added to his long list of apologies by making one to Pres. Harry Pulliam of the American League. There was money left for Murphy to apologize to, so the National League meeting broke up, even Garry Herrmann made up with Murphy, and said he would have no more to say about the ticket scandal.

Pres. Harry Pulliam of the National League stayed away from the magnates whom he caricatured for further orders the night before. He said he was not strong enough to face the National League doggedly, so he kept out of sight. The magnates treated him kindly, however, and while Reg. Heydler was in the chair the club owners granted Pulliam an indefinite leave of absence on account of ill-health.

They attribute the executive's nervous breakdown to Pulliam's nervous breakdown. They were charitable in expressing opinions of the man who had accused them of cheating to return to the old days when there were no magnates.

"Harry is a sick man. He is going to take a long rest, and later come back to us as the president of the National League," said Garry Herrmann, the Cincinnati magnate. Mr. Pulliam planned to leave the city last night, one of his brothers having come here on Herrmann's request, to give the president advice on such action as he desired to make.

Murphy Apologizes

Pres. Johnson of the American League had been called into the meeting for a consultation on the case, and when he agreed, as a member of the commission, to help solve the problem, the National League magnates tendered him a vote of thanks. Pres. Murphy of the Cubs here jumped up and loudly begged the pardon of the man who said a few days ago that he would do baseball a good turn by eliminating Murphy from the game.

It was after Mr. Johnson had addressed the National League magnates that President Starnung offered his apology for whatever he had said in the past concerning the American League executive. Mr. Johnson bowed his acknowledgments and he was voted the thanks of the club owners for his good services.

The ticket complication during the world's championship series in Chicago was gone into and it was decided that the matter be gone into more fully by President Murphy and the chairman of the national commission.

Respecting the subject of tickets the magnates adopted a rule that no person be issued to players either for the home games or while they are in other cities. Provision will be made for issuing passes to the wives of players but hereafter the chosen friends of diamond stars will be obliged to dispense with free admissions. The league's directors decided also to do away with "free ladies" days at any of the National League ball parks.

The proposed amendment to the national agreement was ratified by the league. Clubs in the major leagues will be limited to 25 players each between May 15 and August 20, and to 35 players after the latter date mentioned. In the class AA leagues they will be limited to 25 and 35 by the same arrangement as regards dates. After considerable discussion it was decided that dates for postponed games shall be fixed by home clubs on the days of postponement. When "double-headers" are arranged according to this plan, the managers must be notified by the home clubs so that they may be on hand without delay of being assigned by the headquarters of the league.

In the statement issued by President Pulliam before the meeting of the league owners, he expressed the hope that baseball might not open the gate which had overthrown horse racing throughout the country, and announced that some of the magnates were "inclined to kill the goose that laid the golden egg."

It was when this statement was made public and President Pulliam failed to appear at the meeting that a commotion was held and the league's most asked that it be granted a leave of absence. It is probable that he will go to California, next Monday.

Yesterday trading was not very active. President Combs announced that Fred Bunt, the Chicago American League short-stop, had a contract for the season of 1909 and plans are

Do You Suffer From Splitting Headaches?

If headache sufferers would do a little hard thinking, they would surely learn that headache of all kinds are simply results of a diseased condition of the blood. Usually headache means that the blood and nerves are poisoned by an inactive and sluggish liver. Don't become one of the millions of headache sufferers, who explain their condition by saying, "Oh, I am subject to headache. I always get headache if I get excited or if it is too cold." There is no need of it. Your liver, which is the source of all your blood, is the cause of your headache. It is a powerful drug that may relieve, but leave you in worse condition in the end. Put your liver in good shape, so that it will carry off foul secretions and remove properly the bile elements from the blood. Use

Just because these little pills are Nature's true laxative, and a positive cure for a torpid liver. They easily digest, unless the life ducts, and cure headache by first removing the cause. BASEBALL NOTES

Three members of the New York National League team, O'Hara, Wadler and Simmons, sailed from here yesterday on the steamer Antilles for Galveston on their way to Martin Springs, Tex., where McGraw's men will train for the coming championship race.

This was the advance guard of the Giants and a number of rabid fans were at Pier 25, North River, to see the boys off. McGraw was in New Orleans yesterday and was ready to proceed to the scene of action so that he would be ready to greet the players as they arrive from different parts of the country. A number of new recruits will assemble in St. Louis today and will go at once to the Texas stamping ground, while the veterans of the New York team will be there on or about March 1.

While McGraw has many young players to try out this spring it is the general opinion that when the pennant race begins the regular New York team will be made up in this way: Catchers, Schell, Meyers and St. Gerassi; pitchers, Mathewson, Wilkes, Ames, Ross, and Chandler; infielders, Ingersoll, Tenney, Doyle, Dillworth and Devlin; outfielders, Murray, Seymour and Denlin, with Horag and O'Hara extra men. McGraw doubtless will farm out some of the youngsters for a further trial next year, while others will be released outright. On paper it looks as if Roger Bresnahan would be missed, but McGraw does not as a rule make mistakes when he lets a regular player go.

Jack Chisholm writes to a friend in this city that he will not go to Mason with the Highlanders and that he does not know when he will be able to report to a Manager Stallings. The big pitcher is in the lumber business at his home in Massachusetts and does not care to begin playing too early in the season. But it is a safe bet that he will be a member of the team just the same. He pitched good ball last year, and Stallings said some time ago that Hap- py Jack would be a big factor in the Highlanders' success this season.

Hal Chase, on the other hand, writes from his home in California that he will join the New York Americans at Mason and that he will do his best to help develop a champion. Chisholm says he knows there will be money in the team under Stallings and that the men will pull together much better than they did last year. Whether Chisholm will be traded to the Washington club for pitcher Bill Ramm, as generally reported, is a problem that the attempt to solve just now. Chisholm will receive a treaty at Mason and he shows that his legs are sound and will assign him to a regular infield position.

The First Bottle is Free

To every sick person who suffers from a Cough, "Cold", Bronchitis, Consumption or an ache or pain anywhere in the body and who has not tried LINONINE (the Flax Seed Emulsion), we offer a full bottle free. Not a mere sample but a regular package of standard size and quality. Don't fail to take advantage of this opportunity. Do it today. All druggists have Linonine or they will get it for you.

LINONINE (Emulsion of Flax Seed)

$100,000.00 to Make a Perfect Medicine.

More than one hundred thousand dollars have been expended in making Linonine, the Flax Seed Emulsion, the most perfect food medicine in the world. It is not a secret remedy—the formula is on every bottle. It is a palatable emulsion—sweet as cream—made of the oil compressed cold from the finest, selected Flax Seeds.

How Sickness Comes

Consumption first shows in a cough. Bronchitis is accompanied by a cough. The first stage of La Grippe is a "cold." Pneumonia is preceded by cough and violent "cold."

By acting promptly you can escape most fatal sicknesses by treating a "cold" while it is still a "cold," and by curing a cough when it is nothing but a cough. For many years physicians have been successfully treating Coughs, "Colds," Bronchitis and Consumption with this great Emulsion of Flax Seed, LINONINE.

Everyone knows the value of a Flax Seed poultice of the power of Flax Seed tea. Flax Seed is the utmost in food medicines. For brain or muscle—for the ailing and the weak—for coughs, "colds" and their complications—it does all that medicine can.

Linonine presents the healing, body-building elements of Flax Seed as nothing else in the whole history of medicine has ever done, with special efficacy in all wasting diseases, particularly in Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis and Consumption.

If you wish to know what Linonine (the Flax Seed Emulsion) will do, write us to send you an order on a local druggist for a full-size package, and we will pay the druggist ourselves for it. This is our free gift, made to convince you; to let the remedy itself show you what it can do.

Conservation Congress Began
Work in Earnest Today

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—With two days only in which to prepare the law, the conservation congress, which steps into the arena today, is expected to make a record in the history of the nation. The congress, which is being held at the Statler Hotel, is the first of its kind in the United States. It is the first time that the conservation of the nation's resources has been the subject of a national congress. The congress is being held at the Statler Hotel, which is the largest hotel in the city. The congress is being held at the Statler Hotel, which is the largest hotel in the city. RUSSIAN POLICE

Investigating Plot to Kill Count Witte

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 19.—The police of St. Petersburg today seized a mysterious automobile that seemed to have been seen in the streets of the city. An examination showed it to contain a complete outfit for printing revolutionary literature. Six men connected with the plot were taken into custody. The preliminary investigation into the case of M. Lapokine, a former director of police, who was arrested in this city last January on the technical charge that he was a member of the revolutionary organization, came to an end. The prosecutor determined that there was ample incriminating evidence against Lapokine to justify his indictment for membership

HORSES

I have just arrived from the West with a carload of extra fine horses, suitable for all purposes, weighing from 1000 to 1650 pounds each. These horses are all well broken and kind, being brought right out of our work on the farms where they were raised. Call and look them over at our stables, 501 Middlesex Street, Lowell, three doors above depot.

St. Joseph's College

A grand dramatic entertainment will be given at St. Joseph's college on Feb. 22 and 23 in honor of

There were eight drunken offenders in police court this morning and the session of the court was over in about an hour.

John McCullum, a young man who has been before the court on various occasions, was in the dock this morning. His aged father pleaded with Judge Hadley to give him a chance to get the boy out of town and said that the lad would never appear in court again. Mr. McCullum said he would send the boy to Prince Edward Island. The court agreed to give the young man a chance, but decided to send him to one month in jail. Just as soon as the father is ready to send him northward, however, the boy will be taken from the jail. Mr. McCullum said he would rather have the court impose a fine and he would come up with the necessary money, but Judge Hadley decided that it would be better to keep the young man in jail until he is ready to take his trip out of this country.

It was Daniel J. Murphy's third offense and it looked as though he was slated for a term at the jail, but Judge Hadley learned that a wife and three children were dependent upon him. The case was continued till Feb. 23 at which time Murphy will be turned over to Probation Officer Slattery.

James Highland, James J. Kennedy, John Reynolds and Thomas F. McGowan, recent offenders, were each fined $5.

One first offender was fined $2 and a single drunk was released.

Intend to Celebrate St. Patrick's Day

The O. M. I. cadets will celebrate St. Patrick's day, Feb. 22, at a social given at the O. M. I. building, directed by the cadets, and today that the O. M. I. boys will hold a great banquet on the night of March 17. A meeting of the cadets will be held at 7:30 tonight in the Immaculate Conception school hall to arrange for the party. At the banquet the cadets will give an entertainment. At tonight's meeting, also, arrangements will be made to attend the anniversary reception given at 8 o'clock tomorrow in honor of the release of the late Frederick C. Clayton. Fred Clayton was an officer in the cadets, and one of the most popular boys in the organization.

LONDON, Feb. 18.—Sixteen of the suffragettes who were arrested yesterday during the disorders in Downing street came on for trial today in the Bow street police court and ten were sentenced to terms of imprisonment, ranging from one month to six weeks, after having refused to give security on their own behalf for six months, work in order to prepare a defense. Mr. Clayton was remanded for a week.

THE TAX RATE

An Increase in It is Looked for

at City Hall

It looks now as if Lowell's tax rate was due for another jump. The tax for 1909 will be greater than for 1908, unless things happen that are barely possible, but not probable.

The appropriations as signed by Mayor Brown today add for $11,000 more than was originally appropriated last year and that $11,000 extra means an increase in the tax rate of 14 cents per thousand.

It may be that the state and county tax will be lower this year than last, and that might help some. It would mean $500,000 worth of new property to offset the increase for which the current year's appropriations are responsible.

The school department has been allowed more money this year and if that department does not come back for more money, as was the case last year, there will be a chance for a cut in the 14 cents increase. There is no way of knowing at the present time, however, that the school and other departments will not come back for more money.

The school department asked for $285,000 this year and $278,000 was allowed. Last year $289,200 was asked for and $257,000 was allowed with the result that the department came back for more.

WILL NOT MEET

Accounts Committee

Session Postponed

The committee on accounts will not meet this evening. A meeting was scheduled for tonight and was called for the purpose of taking action on bills that have been hanging fire from last year, December's bills for 1908. The meeting was called off because it was learned that the bills would not be ready.

Mayor and Secretary

Mayor Brown and his private secretary, Vincent C. MacBryne, have been invited to speak before the Boston Druggists' association at Young's hotel, Tuesday evening, Feb. 23. Mayor Brown will speak on "Honesty in Politics," as that is the subject assigned to him. Mr. MacBryne has not had any subject assigned to him. He is a free lance open for remarks on any old subject.

With the Assessors

Should a bill now before the legislature and having to do with the date of assignment of poll taxes and to the list of persons assessed, become law, Lowell's assistant assessors will begin operations in April instead of May as heretofore.

HEART FAILURE AT SACRED HEART

Caused Death of Young Crossland

Washington's Birthday Exercises Held Today

WATERTOWN, Feb. 18.—Heart failure caused by over-exertion, not a blow struck by a companion, caused the death last night of Frank Crossland, a 14-year-old boy, according to the physician who performed an autopsy today. John Scanlon, 14 years of age, who was arrested last night in connection with the case, was exonerated by the report of the physicians and was discharged from custody.

Patriotic exercises in honor of Washington's birthday were held at the Sacred Heart parochial school today with an attendance that filled the school hall. A feature of the entertainment was the program on the covers of which were the national emblem drawn by the pupils and a picture of George Washington. Among those present were Rev. T. W. Smith, O. M. I., pastor, who addressed the pupils on the significance of the approaching holiday, and the clergy connected with the Sacred Heart church. The program was as follows:

——To the Men of Lowell——

I wish to thank you for the whole-souled, wildly enthusiastic reception accorded me in Lowell at my opening last Saturday.

In a lifetime of merchant trafficking, embracing the experience of opening and maintaining 15 different tailoring stores, it has been my pleasure to receive many hearty welcome-to-our-cities from the people of New England.

But my hat is off to Lowell. I can at this time but acknowledge my appreciation and promise you one and all that I shall endeavor to the utmost of my ability to justify that confidence which you so generously showered upon me Saturday.

To the men who in the wildfire rush could not receive the attention they ought to get I offer apology. You saw the conditions. But as I am going to stay in Lowell for keeps from today on, we shall have better opportunity to get acquainted.

Within ten miles of the city of Lowell are situated the greatest woolen mills of this country—the birthplace and lifelong home of woolens and weaves recognized throughout the world as "American Classics."

I opened a new store in Lowell Saturday and as a starter I directed my announcement to the operatives of these great woolen mills—the men who spend their lifetime making woolens—men who, if anybody knows, ought to know woolens.

My reception will always be historic in the annals of Lowell. These weavers came to me, with their knowledge of woolens and values, with their doubts, their misgivings and their skepticism. They saw—they gave me their orders and went home—like Chapman converts.

From the scouring rooms, the dye rooms, the finishing rooms—from loom, from office, they came singly, in pairs and in crowds, and all who could be waited on left orders.

My success in Boston and in out-of-town stores has been gratifying in the extreme. That each succeeding store surpasses the older success, however, is more gratifying—it proves that the "good news travels."

The finest line of woolens in the United States. Blue Serges, Worstedes and Cheviots—suits or overcoats—made to your order with Mitchell concave shoulders including an extra pair of pants, absolutely free for this week only - - - $12

Wants Direct Nomination of U. S. Senators

BOSTON, Feb. 15.—There is some interest at the state house over the date of the hearing on Senator Shaw's bill relative to direct nomination of U. S. senators. In the bulletin of committee hearings published a few days ago the matter was scheduled for hearing Feb. 21. Senator Shaw says that before this assignment was made he had requested Senator Rockwood, chairman of the committee, not to put the bill down for hearing till some time in March, as he would have to be absent more or less this month.

As soon as the bulletin appeared with the Feb. 21 assignment Senator Shaw wrote the senate head of the committee asking if the hearing could be postponed till some time after the inauguration of President Taft, which he intended to attend. Yesterday the Essex man received a letter to the effect that the committee would hear him this morning, or if he chose to appear on the matter in executive session, the committee would hear him any time up to March 15.

Senator Shaw is not satisfied and the situation is causing some comment, especially because of the nature of the subject matter of his bill.

ANNUAL SOCIAL

OF THE UNITED STATES BUNTING CO. EMPLOYEES

The United States Bunting Co. employees held their third annual social and dance last night in Assen's hall. The hall was decorated in orange, and presented a pretty appearance. Music for dancing was furnished by the Calumet orchestra.

General manager, John Gleason; assistant general manager, James Shigley; floor director, Harry Delaney; assistant floor director, Sidney Heathcote; chief aid, John Nolan.

Lustrous Hair

IT COMES ONLY TO THOSE WHO USE A PERFECT DRESSING

Have you seen a pretty face with regular, healthy, skin, nearly black and shiny, and plenty of animation and vivacity, and yet remarked that there was something lacking that really made the individual less charming than her sister of plainer possessions? A moment's study of such a face will show you clearly that it is a want of lustrous hair which makes the difference.

PARISIAN SAGE

The woman who wishes to retain her youth must look after her hair. The woman with scant, unattractive hair is never admired.

Society women realize the truth of this statement and that is why so many of New York's loveliest women demand that Parisian Sage be used by their hair-dressers.

Parisian Sage is sold now by druggists in nearly every town of consequence in America, and has enormous sales wherever it has been introduced.

It is guaranteed by Carter & Sherburne, the agents in Lowell, to cure dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks or money back.

It will make any woman's hair soft, lustrous and luxuriant in a few days. It is the ideal, delightful, rejuvenating tonic that makes hair grow; it is not sticky or greasy, but on the other hand is most pleasant and delightfully perfumed, and only 50 cents a large bottle at Carter & Sherburne's. All charges prepaid by the American Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

BOY WAS KILLED

As Result of Dispute With a Companion

WATERTOWN, Feb. 19.—A school-boy dispute between two pupils of the Marshall Spring school yesterday resulted in the death of Frank Crossland, aged 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Crossland, of 23 Summer street.

His alleged assailant, John Scanlon, aged 14, was taken into custody later by Patrolman John P. Millmore when the Scanlon lad called at the home of William O'Brien, 17 Waverly avenue, for a couple of minutes. Scanlon dealt Crossland a blow which landed under the head.

FRANK CROSSLAND, Killed by Blow at Watertown.

The Crossland had dropped to the ground. Young Scanlon became frightened then and tried to raise his schoolmate up, but young Crossland was unconscious.

Scanlon then ran to his home, 78 North Beacon street, and told his mother that he had hit a boy. His mother told him to eat his dinner and go back and see how badly the boy had been injured.

The Scanlon lad was so excited that he could eat nothing, and he left the house saying that he was going back to see how Crossland was getting along. Upon his arrival at the O'Brien house he was detained by the police. Scanlon told the same story at the police station that he told his mother.

William O'Brien, an eyewitness to the affair, said that he was sitting at his window when the boys were coming from school. He noticed that a couple of the lads were in a heated argument. Just as they reached his home he says they got at it in earnest. Each lad struck two or three blows, and honors appeared even when he saw one sink to the ground.

When the lad did not arise immediately he says he thought that the boy must have been badly hurt. Pulling on a pair of rubbers over his slippers, O'Brien ran into the street where the lad was lying.

When he reached the boy he was just gasping. He opened his shirt and then carried him into his house, sent a boy to inform Principal C. W. Walters and another boy for a physician. Dr. Maloney, the town physician, answered the call and pronounced young Crossland beyond human aid.

James Howe, aged 68 years, who left Lowell 39 years ago has returned to this city to look up his three children, Robert, James and Margaret Alice, whose ages, he believes are 47, 45 and 35 years respectively. The family lived in Water street, now Concord street, when he left home and since then he has heard no tidings of them except that the daughter is married and lives in Boston. While away Mr. Howe met with success and returns home with sufficient of the world's goods to keep him in comfort for the remainder of his life. He is registered at the Washington house where he will remain pending word from his children.

Well Known Hunter Victim of Accident

CENTER OSSISPEE, N. H., Feb. 19.—His snow shoes tripping in the road tracks at Ossipee station as he was returning from a fox hunt late yesterday, I. DeWitt Carter, a well known hunter and guide of the North Country, accidentally discharged his shot gun, receiving the charge in his right leg, which severed an artery and caused him to bleed to death before help could reach him.

Section men on the railroad saw the accident and hastened to the hunter's side. The man was dead when they reached him, although it was scarcely two minutes later.

Carrier occupied the unique position of hunter, guide, trial justice and town clerk of Center Ossipee. As hunter he claimed to have killed more bears than any other man in New Hampshire.

He was born in this town 67 years ago. He is survived by one brother.

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

The sworn daily average circulation of The Lowell Sun for the year 1908 was 15,956

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilotte, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1909. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public

This is by far the largest average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.

The idea of a municipal centre has received the quietus for the present. It is not absolutely essential, of course, but its acquisition is desirable in the interests of the city's future.

LET THERE BE MORE LIGHT.

Mayor Brown's idea for lighting up Middlesex street at night is worthy of consideration. At present that street is rather dark in places, and business there is thereby hampered.

THE KNOX ENABLING BILL.

Congress was called into passing the Knox enabling bill. It establishes a bad precedent. President-elect Taft should have been compelled to find another man for premier. There is no scarcity of men fully as well equipped for the position as is Knox.

A DANGEROUS PRACTICE.

The danger of carrying sharp instruments was illustrated in New York the other day when a boy who had a pointed ink eraser in his pocket was killed in a fall, the instrument having pierced his lung. It was his fifteenth birthday, and he was rushing from a corps of stenographers who wanted to kiss him in recognition of the event. He was killed in the ordeal.

BUSINESS METHODS.

When a man is placed at the head of a great corporation there are certain duties that he must entrust to his subordinates. If he gets down to give his time or attention to insignificant details of business in any department, he must necessarily neglect matters of importance that receive his best thought and attention. What is true in this respect of a big corporation is equally true of a city.

THE SILENCE ROOM.

The silence room for women provided in connection with the Inman church in Boston must be to talkative women what solitary confinement would be to the average man. We do not believe the silence room will prove popular, it is so hard for a woman to stop talking about her neighbors, about the latest fashions and the soporific qualities of the pastor's last sermon.

HIGHER FIRE LOSSES.

The fire losses are climbing upward in this country, but not so in other countries. The fire losses for last year are set down at $225,000,000, whereas the losses for the previous year were $10,000,000 less. The aggregate for the last decade is set down as $2,029,754,393. In this country the per capita fire loss is $3.92 as against 33 cents in the principal European countries.

This is the penalty of having so many wooden houses and so many of them built with but the ordinary provisions against fire.

MAYOR HIBBARD DID NOT MAKE GOOD.

Mayor Hibbard of Boston set out with a great flourish of trumpets, promising radical retrenchment and reduction of taxes, but he has failed to make good.

The expenses of his office have exceeded the outlay under his predecessors. He exceeded his appropriation by $600, while his bills for traveling expenses and carriage hire broke all previous records. Besides his expenditure for entertaining guests was $1000 in excess of the amount spent in the year of the Boston old home week. Mayor Hibbard has posed in New York and elsewhere as a reform mayor, but although he shook up things to some extent he has not effected any material improvement nor accomplished the retrenchment that he promised. With the people who elected him, he had upon election of past administrations, but although these were severely scored by the finance committee, yet Mayor Hibbard's administration has shown but slight, if any, improvement upon that of his immediate predecessor.

BILL THAT SHOULD PASS.

Before the legislature of this state at the present time is a bill that should be promptly enacted. It provides that all paid, received, matter promoting the sale of stocks in mining properties, corporations, or any money-making scheme, whatsoever, should be labeled "advertisement."

A few years ago a law was enacted to distinguish paid political advertising from news matter. That served a good purpose, but a law such as provided for in the bill just mentioned is far more necessary. These readers about "bulletin" stocks and about opportunities to get rich quick are at present shipped to newspapers in the guise of news matter, and money-minded people are thus deluded into investing money in wild schemes. The functions of a newspaper embrace the publication of news, the expression of opinion in editorial form and advertising.

If the last named be not properly distinguished from the other two it is plain that the public will thereby be deluded into investment in schemes organized mainly to rob honest people of their money.

Lowell citizens have lately been in the past an amount of investing in stock-jobbing schemes. We do not know to what extent this was brought about by the form of advertising which this law would remedy. When a concern with stock in itself presents a displayed advertisement it excites a reading matter apart from the advertisement. The question with most papers has been to put a label on the advertisement without any advertising label and, therefore, in a way that was liable to be understood as covering the opinions of the paper in which it appears.

That bill, if passed, will damage the sale of gold bricks and lessen the number of "bulletins."

PACKING HOUSES

Consolidation Agreement Made Known

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—The agreement under which the four largest packing houses of the country were to have been consolidated was made public yesterday in the trial of the suit of Frederick Joseph against Ferdinand Schwarzchild & Sutzberger, for recovery of $200,000 of stock which the plaintiff alleges Mr. Sutzberger with having converted to his own use.

Under direct examination by his counsel, Samuel H. Hays, Mr. Joseph testified that the agreement, provided for the merger of the Schwarzchild & Sutzberger, the Armour Packing Co., the Swift Co. and the Nelson Morris Packing Co. Provision was also made for the absorption of the Chicago Packing Co.

Under the terms of the agreement the stock of the Schwarzchild & Sutzberger Co. was to have been exchanged for $100 in each of preferred stock and $200 in common stock of the new corporation.

In the course of the acquisition of Schwarzchild & Sutzberger stock, preparatory to its being turned into the new stock, shares were alleged to have been purchased for the account of Mr. Joseph at an average price of $22.50 a share.

These shares, Mr. Joseph charged, were turned over to Mr. Sutzberger, who represented the Schwarzchild & Sutzberger Co. in the merger negotiations.

Owing to the action of the government and the public of 1907, the proposed consolidation fell through and

AFTER EATING SAUSAGE SAID TO HAVE BEEN POISONED
MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 18.—Three persons are dead and five others are seriously injured as a result of eating sausage supposed to have been poisoned.

Mr. Joseph requested that the stock contributed by him to the pool be returned to him. This, however, Mr. Sutzberger has refused to do, the plaintiff alleges, and it is in order to compel him to do so that the present action is brought.

Since his purchase the stock has grown in value and is now worth, it is claimed, the amount sued for by Mr. Joseph.

A WIDER ISSUE
IN THE PANAMA CANAL LITIGATION
INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 18.—The News published the following statement concerning the Panama canal litigation: "The issue presented by the litigation is, of course, one for the courts, in regard to that little or nothing need be said. But there is a wider issue concerning it, we think, a good deal will be said. Perhaps it is needless to say that the course of the News will be in no way influenced or affected by what has happened. We shall continue to discuss public questions on their merits, as in the past, and to criticize public men without either personal or partisan bias."

This is the phase of the question that most concerns the public. It has a right to know that the functions of a free and independent newspaper will not cease to be performed, and also to know that no personal element will be allowed to obtrude itself in any of the criticisms that we may feel called on to make. We shall not be covered into silence, nor tempted into unfairness. Believing that the great principle of freedom of the press is at stake, we must do what we can to uphold it. No more important service than this can be performed by a newspaper, especially at this time. The public to which alone the News acknowledges any obligation, may feel sure that this paper will continue to serve its interests as it ever has. To sum up, we shall print the news and tell the truth about it as it is given us to see the truth."

RACE WITH DEATH
Doctor Reached Dying Wife's Bedside
BURLINGTON, Vt., Feb. 18.—A race with death across the United States from El Paso, Texas, to Burlington was finished here today when Dr. H. Nelson Jackson arrived at his dying wife's bedside after a 61 hour trip over more than 2500 miles of rail. A recent for the journey from Chicago to Burlington was established in the course of the run, the nearest trip being made in 21 hours. The leg from Chicago, however, was made in a special train, the chartering of which cost Dr. Jackson $3500. The fastest time of the journey was made between Chicago and Cleveland, which are 143 miles apart, this part of the trip occupied but 10 hours and 30 minutes.

Dr. Jackson had been traveling in Mexico and had reached El Paso, when he was notified of the sudden and violent illness of his wife through an attack of acute indigestion. He made efforts there to charter a special train to carry him through the remainder of his journey, but was forced to take passage on the regular trains with their breaks in connections.

Dr. Jackson left El Paso Monday morning and covered the 1155 miles between that place and Chicago, including several stops and changes, in about 48 hours. A special train was waiting him in Chicago and he immediately set off on the last lap of his trip.

Mrs. Jackson was alive when her husband reached her side, but her life is despaired of.

A MASTER MASON

Pres.-Elect Taft Was Initiated Last Night

CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 18.—William H. Taft, president-elect of the United States, is a master Mason. The impressive ceremony which brought him that distinction yesterday was conducted by Charles S. Haskinson, the most worshipful grand master of the lodge of the most ancient and honorable fraternity of free and accepted Masons of the state of Ohio.

The highest Masonic authorities of seventeen states witnessed Mr. Taft's admission into the order, as did a body representing prominent citizens of Cincinnati and the members of Kilwinning lodge of which Alfonso Taft, father of the president-elect, was a member, and into which Charles P. Taft was initiated under the auspices of his father.

Scottish Rite cathedral was the scene of the ceremony. Its main floor and gallery were crowded when the distinguished candidate arrived. The presence of which ended in the declaration that Mr. Taft was a Mason occupied thirty-five minutes.

Mr. Taft received many greetings on a box, plane of fellowship as he was escorted from the hall by the committee having in charge his initiation. The ceremony of being declared a Mason at night did not end with the ceremony of the grand lodge.

Mr. Taft witnessed during the evening the regular form of initiating a member, the ceremony being conducted by Worshipful Master D. M. Palmer of Kilwinning lodge. Between the two members of the lodge there was a reception for Masonic brethren at C. P. Taft's residence and after the ceremonies there was a brilliant ball at the Anis hotel, on one of Cincinnati's Seven Hills.

The president-elect attended all these functions.

Frank H. Hildreth, the youngest of Mr. Taft's sons, was yesterday from Chicago and after a conference left for Washington. That the discussion related to the undecided road of some of the treasury was admitted, but would not state that no decision was reached, as information of the place and time of the change of further was made.

Mr. Taft's only possible statement was a decision that had not been reached.

The president-elect was not the only one of Mr. Taft's family who was in Washington. His eldest son, Charles, was also in the city, and it was the day of C. P. Taft's residence during his time in his correspondence with his personal friends, and other literary work. He will attend the dinner of the Knickerbocker hotel tonight, when he will hear Cincinnati "boosted." He will leave for Philadelphia Saturday.

RELIEF WORK
COMMITTEE DECIDES TO ERECT WOODEN BARRACKS

ROME, Feb. 18.—The special American relief expedition, headed by Nelson, day of Boston and Earl Dodge, ambassador Grissom's secretary, returned here from Calabria last night. They remained eleven days in the earthquake zone, visiting 40 towns and villages and collecting information with regard to thirty others. They covered 60 miles by automobile and a much longer distance by train.

Everywhere in the mountain villages they found great destitution. The people refused to receive money, saying that they did not know what to do with it; what they wanted beyond everything else was shelter. The Americans distributed a great quantity of provisions with astonishing rapidity and a quantity of milk which they were able to supply was most gratefully received.

After receiving the report of Mr. Grissom, the American committee in Rome appropriated $2000 for the erection of wooden barracks, 2000 for feeding and $24,000 for tent barracks for the devastated territory. This practically exhausts the balance of the fund.

Ambassador Grissom has recommended to the senate late yesterday a bill which was introduced by the officers and crews of the American Atlantic fleet for the families of the Italian officers and sailors who suffered in the earthquake.

According to the report of the special expedition, the tents and debris of the Italian Red Cross were found everywhere in Calabria, even in the smallest villages, showing the perfect organization of the institution.

At Pabot, a ward for fifty patients is now ready in the American hospital, and another ward is being prepared, capable of accommodating a similar number.

LUMBER SENT TO ITALY
WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Fifty million feet of lumber is now on the way to Italy to be used in the construction of the houses for the earthquake victims, the last shipment having left New York Tuesday. The first vessel to reach Messina on Sunday, the several other vessels reaching there about a week apart.

SCALDED TO DEATH
LITTLE GIRL FELL INTO BOILER OF HOT WATER
WEST WARREN, R.I., Feb. 18.—The presence of her mother, four-year-old Nellie La Monte, was scalded to death yesterday, when she slipped into a boiler of hot water which her mother was using in washing.

THE ARMY BILL
WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The senate appropriation bill which was reported to the senate late yesterday, contained $10,500,000, an increase of $2,700,000 over the amount as it passed the house.

THE GRAFT CASES

Councilman Klein Was Placed On Trial Today

PITTSBURG, Feb. 18.—When the trial of Councilman John P. Klein, which is the second resulting from the recent graft exposures, was resumed today in criminal court it was believed counsel for the accused politician would call witnesses including every member of the city council.

Among the questions which will be asked by the defense is the following: "Did they receive any of the vast amount of money that is alleged to have been floating around in the form of bribes?"

Following the conviction yesterday of W. W. Ramsey, vice-president of the

BAR FOREIGNERS

From Holding Property in Cuba

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—A bill prohibiting foreigners holding any property in Cuba has been introduced into the house at Havana, according to a special cable despatch to the Herald.

The bill contains three clauses, as follows: "That only Cubans, native born or naturalized, can acquire property."

"That all business transactions now under way for transferring properties to foreigners shall be suspended."

"This law will take effect from the date of its publication in the Gazette."

GIVES BAIL

WOMAN RELENTS AFTER ARREST OF YOUTH

BOSTON, Feb. 18.—After causing the arrest of Lee S. Hurlbert, 23 years old, a member of a prominent family of Worcester, on the charge of stealing her jewelry, valued at $300, Mrs. G. W. Hammond, living at the Hotel Oxford, went to the Back Bay police station and bailed him out.

Hurlbert is alleged to have stolen five diamond rings, three diamond studs and a diamond pin, while visiting Mrs. Hammond recently when she was living at 79 Westland avenue.

The police say the jewels were found on Hurlbert.

When the case comes up in court today it is believed Mrs. Hammond will make a plea to have him placed on probation.

When interviewed at the Hotel Oxford last night, Mrs. Hammond refused to give any particulars regarding the alleged theft.

Hurlbert lives with his parents at 31 Leland street, fashionable residential section of Worcester.

STETSON'S "UNCLE TOM'S CABIN"

Monday's attraction at the opera house will be the always welcome Stetson's big double "Uncle Tom's Cabin," a good presentation of the famous play, which has been a success since its first production. The Stetson company presents the play with a wealth of scenic and electrical effects that give the scenes depicted a perfect atmosphere and the scenic company is made up of the best that has ever appeared in the well known characters. A street parade will be given at noon. Popular prices will prevail for both afternoon and evening.

HATHAWAY THEATRE

Most western depities have proven to be rather wild, ferocious and not at all good looking, but there is one at Hathaway's theatre this week in "The Bad Man and the Deputy," who is just the opposite. Her real name is Margery Clayton, and she's just as sweet and pretty and gentle as can be. William Humphrey, an excellent actor, appears as "Jack Talbot," the bad man in the play, and he brings to the portrayal much rugged strength. Ardis Allen is the rustic owner who participates in the duel in the dark, and Bernard Randall makes a good western bartender. The little sketch is extremely well done and its theme is treated in an original manner.

The remainder of the bill holds many good things. Sammy Watson appears with his educated farmyard animals, a donkey, roosters, ducks, dogs, a cat and a sheep. Ward & Curran in a new version of "The Terrible Judge" are warranted to convulse with laughter and the McQuays give one of the most interesting comedies of the season in a long time. Ruby Raymond and her street urchins humor us just as if they were to participate in an amateur contest and the Jungs, a man and a woman, open the bill well. The motion pictures are good.

Performances will be given every afternoon and evening during the remainder of the week with special seats for women at the matinees.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

The program at the Academy changed completely today with four reels of first run moving pictures, two new musical comedies and a change in the program of "Traveling Salesman." Tomorrow the performance will run continuously from 2 to 10:30 and on Sunday with a complete change of bill again. A continuous performance will be given from 2 to 10:30 o'clock on Monday, Washington's Birthday, in honor of the holiday the manager will give a variety of patriotic songs and a variety of patriotic songs of the day, the first five cent feature to offer anything in the souvenir line. An especially attractive program will also be presented on Monday. The price of admission remains unchanged. Five cents admits to all and includes a good seat of which there are hundreds to be had. A few orchestra seats are reserved at five cents extra.

THEATRE VOYONS

Those who love thrilling motion pictures will appreciate two of the features shown today at the Theatre Voyons "An Irish Hero" and "Kings of the Ring." The former tells a story of a brave Irish lad who risks his freedom for a chance to see his father and sisters for the last time before leaving for America. "The King of the Ring" is a college story that tells of a young man who has been expelled from college who has found his way back to all attending the college and incidentally saves the college from a disgraceful fate. The latter comedy yet combines in a clever way the funniest incidents of two of the biggest hits, "As the Years Roll on" please the ballad lovers for its music and verse are excellent. "A Grand Old Bill" is a patriotic grand old song and a fine story.

PRES-ELECT TAFT

Not to Name Negroes to Office in the South

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—There will be no address and particularly that be a radical change of policy in the matter of appointing colored men to important offices in the south as soon as Mr. Taft succeeds Mr. Roosevelt. There will be no more Dr. Crum episodes.

In his inaugural address, which he will deliver on taking the oath of office at the capital on March 4, Mr. Taft will plainly announce his attitude toward colored office-seekers. While their appointment will not cause bitterness and antagonism, their names will be considered as strongly as any other good man's.

But where the appointment of a colored man is necessary by the best business and commercial interests, public sentiment will be regarded by Mr. Taft.

Mr. Taft's inaugural address is practically completed. He read it yesterday to Senator Knox and afterward to President Roosevelt, Postmaster General Meyer, on whose second judgment and thorough approval Mr. Taft, Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Taft's cabinet were summoned to the White House.

friends in the senate to crowd through at this session the nomination of Dr. Crum to be collector of the port of Charleston.

The democrats fought the confirmation because they believed they could embarrass Mr. Taft on the threshold of his office by compelling him to announce himself at once. Mr. Taft, fearless and frank on this question, on every question that was put up to him during the campaign, will answer it the very moment he enters on his office.

Dr. Crum will not be reappointed. Some place may be found for him in Washington. There are several good offices which ever since Mr. Cleveland's day have been regarded as emoluments of the colored leaders. One of these Dr. Crum will probably get, but he will not be collector of the port at Charleston.

BIG FIGHT BETWEEN ATTELL AND DRISCOLL TAKES PLACE TONIGHT

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—Both light and heavy fighters, claiming that they were ready to make the weight of 125 pounds, had preparations completed today for the fight before the National A. C. tonight between Abe Attell, world's featherweight champion and J. W. Driscoll, the English featherweight champion who has not lost a fight since his arrival in this country. The little men have trained hard and conscientiously and it is expected that the contest will be the best seen here about for some time. Late last night the dispute over who should referee had not been settled but a compromise will be agreed upon before this evening. The boxing today is in 7 in favor of Driscoll. Several large wagers were recorded. There were several rumors that the police would interfere with the fight but the promoters seemed to be little disturbed.

1000 BABIES AT A CHURCH SERVICE IN PHILADELPHIA

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Feb. 19.—There were more than 1000 babies in the Roman Catholic Church of the Gesù, at 18th and Fifth streets, yesterday.

They furnished the largest collection of tiny folk ever gathered together under one roof in this city and probably one of the largest assemblages of the kind in this country.

It was an object lesson to allay the fears of persons who dread rare ailments.

The Rev. Fr. Casey, S. J., entered the pulpit.

"What a glorious sight!" he exclaimed.

Then he conducted the services, and afterward marched through the aisles, accompanied by two novices, and sprinkled holy water over the little ones.

STICKS GIVEN TO CABINET

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Captain Archie Butt, military aide to the president, today presented sticks from the president to members of his cabinet. The sticks are described as "hunks from the wood of the Alexander Hamilton tree." From the head of each cane is a gold band on which is inscribed the words "Theodore Roosevelt."

At the White House they profess to know nothing about these gold-tipped sticks.

JEWELRY STOLEN Your Distressed Stomach Relieved in Five Minutes

Burglars Entered Home of Asst. City Clerk McCarthy

The residence of Assistant City Clerk McCarthy, 17 Mt. Vernon, a suburb of Cambridge, was broken into Wednesday night and a quantity of jewelry taken. An attempt was made to break into the house by the use of a skeleton key and the burglar made his escape without being detected. The burglar has been reported to the police who are now working on the case.

The burglar, who is believed to be a man of about 30 years of age, is described as being of medium height, dark hair, and wearing a dark suit. He is believed to be a native of Ireland and is said to be a member of the Irish-American community in Cambridge.

The burglar is believed to have entered the house through the back door, which was unlocked at the time. He is believed to have taken a large quantity of jewelry, including a diamond ring, a watch, and several pieces of silverware.

The police are now working on the case and are hoping to catch the burglar soon.

IN DREAM YOUTH WENT OUT OF A WINDOW

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 12.—Dreaming that the house was falling in upon him, Carter Bertram, 17 years old, of 1236 South Belmont avenue, at 5 o'clock in the morning jumped through the second-story window and landed on his head. He is now in a hospital, suffering from a severe injury to the head and arms and legs, but no broken bones. Members of the household found him in the yard, weak with the loss of blood, but quick work of a physician saved his life.

A neighbor woman had come to her window at the time of the accident to look at her watch by the street light, and as she looked across the street she saw the white-robed form of Bertram plunge out of the window. Being alone at the time and believing it was a burglar making his lightning dash, she called out "Fire!" and "Help!"

After the Bertram household had been aroused a brother of the injured boy was sent for. Dr. S. O. Lock, speeding down a side street in the darkness of the morning, the young man was discovered by a patrolman and ordered to halt, but the passenger increased his speed unmindful of consequences.

Carter Bertram has been troubled with sleep walking for years, and when the Bertram family lived on the farm it was his nightly custom to go out of

THE OPIUM CONFERENCE

SINGAPORE, Feb. 12.—At today's session of the international opium conference the delegates declined to consider the medical aspects of the opium question or means of curing the opium habit. It was decided, however, that each delegate should present to his government the appointment of medical men to look into this phase of the question.

Mr. A. Walker Green, the well-known representative of the Fred. C. Church agency, has received a more lucrative position in the Eastern Massachusetts district of the Travelers Insurance company. Mr. Green entered upon his new duties last Monday and many friends will be pleased to hear of his recent promotion to a larger field of work.

Harry Pulliam Given Indefinite Leave of Absence

CHICAGO, Feb. 19. — Everything came out all right yesterday in the last act of the serious baseball war which had been going on in these parts since the close of last season. No more fourth act of a melodrama ever contained more reunions of old friends, more falling on necks and weeping, or more pompous and wholesale forgiveness.

C. Webb Murphy added to his long list of apologies by making one to Harry Pulliam of the American League. There was nobody left for Murphy to apologize to, so the National League meeting broke up. Even Garry Herrmann made up with Murphy, and said he would have no more to say about the ticket scandal.

Pres. Harry Pulliam of the National League stayed away from the magnates whom he castigated for further orders the night before. He said he was not strong enough to face the National League doggers, so he kept out of sight. The magnates treated him kindly, however, and while Sec. Heydler was in the chair the club owners granted Pulliam an indefinite leave of absence on account of ill-health.

They attribute the executive's decay to the fact that he was during the Chicago's banquet Wednesday night, to Pulliam's nervous breakdown. They were charitable in expressing opinions of the man who had accused them of wishing to return to the old days when they were a team.

"Harry is a sick man. He is going to take a long rest, and may come back to us as the president of the National League some day," said Garry Herrmann, the Cincinnati magnate.

Mr. Pulliam planned to leave the city late last night, one of his brothers having come here, on Herrmann's re-

Heydler Acting President

Mr. Pulliam may stay away as long as he pleases and be relieved of all his official responsibilities. John A. Heydler, now secretary and treasurer of the league, was appointed acting president, with full authority, including representation, on the national committee.

The National League fell down again on the so-called surprise scandal. The league was expected to bring along a little with the four-flush it had made about exposing the man or men whom Chicago Kila claimed had tried to bribe him before the New York-Chicago game of Oct. 8. The magnates made that grandstand play all the worse by showing it off only the national committee's shoulders.

The trouble complication during the world's championship series in Chicago was gone into and it was decided that the matter be come into more fully by President Murphy and the chairman of the national committee.

Respecting the subject of tickets, the magnates adopted a rule that no player be allowed to play in either for the home games or while they are in other cities. Provision will be made for testing passes to the wives of players, but hereafter the chosen friends of diamond stars will be obliged to disperse with their admiring throngs.

The league's directors decided also to do away with "free ladies" of any of the National League ball parks.

The proposed amendment to the national agreement was ratified by the league. Clubs in the major leagues will be limited to 25 players each between May 15 and August 15, and to 35 players after the latter date mentioned. In the class A leagues they will be limited to 15 and 25 by the same arrangement as regards dates.

After considerable discussion it was decided that dates for postponed games shall be fixed by home clubs on the days of postponement. When "double-headers" are arranged according to this plan, the umpires must be notified by the home clubs so that they may be on hand without delay of being assigned by the headquarters of the league.

In the statement issued by President Pulliam before the meeting of the league, he expressed his hope that the baseball might not meet the fate which had overtaken horse racing throughout the country, and announced that some of the magnates were "inclined to kill the goose that laid the golden egg."

It was when this statement was made public and President Pulliam failed to appear at the meeting that a conference was held and the league's head ruled that he be granted a leave of absence. It is probable that he will go to California next Monday.

Yesterday trading was not very active. President Comisky announced that Fred Parent, the Chicago American league short-stop, had a contract for the season of 1909 and plans are ferred to the national committee for such action as it desires to make.

Murphy Apologizes

Pres. Johnson of the American League had been called into the meeting for a consultation on the case, and when he agreed, as a member of the committee, to help solve the problem, the National League magnates tendered him a vote of thanks. Pres. Murphy of the Cubs here jumped up and bluntnessly begged the pardon of the man who said a few days ago that he would do baseball a good turn by eliminating Murphy from the game.

It was after Mr. Johnson had addressed the National League magnates that President Murphy offered his apology for whatever he had said in the past concerning the American League executive.

Mr. Johnson bowed his acknowledgments and was voted the thanks of the club owners for his good services.

Yesterday trading was not very active. President Comisky announced that Fred Parent, the Chicago American league short-stop, had a contract for the season of 1909 and plans are almost complete for the California training trip.

Two transfers of pitchers were announced. Pitcher Lee from Chicago to Toledo, and Pitcher McGinnis from St. Louis to Milwaukee.

Three members of the New York National League team, O'Hara, Waller and Shumons, sailed from here yesterday on the steamer Anitales for Galveston on their way to Martin Springs, Tex., where McGinnis will train for the coming championship race.

This was the advance guard of the Giants and a number of rapid fans were at Pier 24, North River, to see the boys off. McGinnis was in New Orleans yesterday and was ready to proceed to the scene of action so that he would be ready to go to the Texas game as they arrive from different parts of the country. A number of new recruits will assemble in St. Louis today and will go at once to the Texas stadium ground, while the veterans of the New York team will be there on or about March 1.

While McGinnis has many young players to try out this spring it is the general opinion that when the pennant race begins the regular New York team will be made up in this way: Catchers, Schell, Meyers and Snodgrass; pitchers, Mathewson, Wiltse, Ames, Thompson, Randall and Maraness; infielders, Tenney, Doyle, Bridwell and Leary; outfielders, Murray, Seymour and Donlin, with Herzog and O'Hara, extras.

McGraw doubtless will turn out some of the youngsters for a further trial next year, while others will be released outright. On paper it looks as if Roger Bresnahan would be needed, but McGraw does not as a rule make mistakes when he lets a veteran player go.

Jack Chesbro writes to a friend in this city that he will not go to Marion with the Highlanders and that he does not know when he will be able to report to a Manager Stallings. The big pitcher is in the lumber business at his home in Massachusetts and does not care to begin playing too early in the season. But it is a safe bet that he will be a member of the team just the same.

He pitched good ball last year, and Stallings said some time ago that Happy Jack would be a big factor in the Highlanders' success this season.

That Chase, on the other hand, writes from his home in California, that he will join the New York Americans at Marion and that he will do his best to help develop a winner. Chase says he knows there will be harmony in the team under Stallings and that the men will pull together much better than they did last year. Whether Ellersfield will be traded to the Washington club for Pitcher Bill Thurns, as currently reported, is a problem that few attempt to solve just now. Ellersfield will receive a tryout at Marion and if he shows that his legs are sound Stallings may assign him to a regular infield position.

The First Bottle is Free

To every sick person who suffers from a Cough, "Cold", Bronchitis, Consumption, or an ache or pain anywhere in the body and who has not tried LINONINE, (the Flax Seed Emulsion), we offer a full bottle free. Not a mere sample but a regular package of standard size and quality. Don't fail to take advantage of this opportunity. Do it today. All druggists have Linonine or they will get it for you.

LINONINE (Emulsion of Flax Seed)

$100,000.00 to Make a Perfect Medicine.

More than one hundred thousand dollars have been expended in making Linonine, the Flax Seed Emulsion, the most perfect food medicine in the world. It is not a secret remedy—the formula is on every bottle. It is a palatable emulsion—sweet as cream—made of the oil compressed cold from the finest, selected Flax Seeds.

How Sickness Comes

Consumption first shows in a cough. Bronchitis is accompanied by a rough. The first stage of La Grippe is a "cold." Pneumonia is preceded by cough and violent "cold." Creep—that terrible malady of childhood—comes solely as a condition of a "cold."

By acting promptly you can escape most fatal sicknesses by treating a "cold" while it is still a "cold" and by curing a cough when it is nothing but a cough. For many years physicians have been successfully treating Coughs, "Colds," Bronchitis and Consumption with this great Emulsion of Flax Seed, LINONINE.

Everyone knows the value of a Flax Seed poultice—of the power of Flax Seed tea. Flax Seed is the utmost in food medicines. For brain or muscle—for the ailing and the weak—for coughs, "colds" and their complications—it does all that medicine can.

Linonine presents the healing, body-building elements of Flax Seed as nothing else in the whole history of medicine has ever done, with special efficacy in all wasting diseases, particularly in Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis and Consumption.

If you wish to know what Linonine (the Flax Seed Emulsion) will do, write us to send you an order on a local druggist for a full-size package, and we will pay the druggist ourselves for it. This is our free gift, made to convince you; let the remedy itself show you what it can do.
